FLIERS OVER PACIFIC

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A gigantic window washing job has again been completed in this city. Windows in all the public schools of the city are spic and span for the opening of school sessions tomorrow. Imagine the job of washing the hundreds of panes of glass in the senior high, the George Washington junior high, or the Benjamin Franklin junior high, as well as all of the grade schools of the city!

While Labor Day was a perfect summer day, with a warm sun shining all day long, today seems to have very much more of a fall like tinge. Rain threatened early, and clouds were overhanging.

Opening of North Mercer street from the George Washington high school to the northern city line, which was done by the city and Neshannock township in co-operation, has provided another important thoroughfare in the northern end of the city. The street has been temporarily graded, and ashed so that it will be in shape for travel all winter, it is expected.

Numerous airplanes were sighted flying over the city yesterday. Whether they were planes from the locality, or whether they were enroute to Cleveland, for the air races, could not be established, as the planes were flying high for the most part.

One clock that didn't have to be touched when the time shifted from Daylight Savings to Eastern Standard time, on Saturday night was the large clock on the County court house. This clock was never changed when the city started observance of daylight time last spring.

Hitch hikers are beginning to make their appearance on North Jefferson and Wallace avenues again. College boys at Westminster make this spot their camping out place in seeking rides to New Wilmington.

Employes of the various industries at New Castle Junction, along with West Pittsburg residents, are elated today to find that the road over Sheep Hill is being scraped. The work is being done by the State Highway Department.

Changing back to Eastern Standard time has sounded the finale for twilight athletics in the city for the present season. There is not time enough after six o'clock to carry on in any kind of athletic contests, before darkness falls.

Labor Day, Pa Newc noticed, meant exactly what the term implies to the men employed on the East Washington street bridge job. It's the proper thing to speed it up that way, too.

Political aspirants—plenty of them—made Cascade Park their mecca yesterday. They were mingling among the crowds in large numbers. Labor Day affords one of the choicest opportunities for candidates to make contacts before a fall election.

For the hundreds of pesky blackbirds and starlings that infest the Boyles and Park avenue trees, near the Highland avenue intersection, Monday must have been more than a holiday. Last night, the residents report, there were probably more about than ever before. The big question is how may the chirping visitors be eliminated?

Pa Newc notes that the police have apparently let up on enforcement of the dog laws. A large number of canines are to be seen running at large unmolested on the streets of the city, these days.

Lawrence County buckwheat crop is now being harvested like all other crops this season, buckwheat is a prolific one.

Pa Newc notes that one of the small school houses in North Beaver township, one located along the Mt. Jackson road, has been converted to a church building and religious services are being held in it. The little school was abondoned for school purposes when the consolidated school was built at Mt. Jackson.

Over the week end, Pa Newc saw an auto going through the city, carrying an Illinois license, and a large placard, "House of David."

Upper Croton was gaily lighted over the week end. There was a celebration on Sunday and Monday by the Duke of Abruzzi organization and multi-colored lights were strung across Croton avenue and some of the intersecting streets in the vicinity of the Croton public school.

The widening of North street, completed last year, has proven a big assistance in handling traffic since the East Washington street bridge was closed. Yesterday, there was a constant stream of autos passing along the street as tourists and picnickers wended their way hither and yon. A viaduct from the North Hill to Croton would have taken a great amount of this traffic out of the downtown section.

Pa Newc observed automobiles from almost every state in the Union yesterday. Among those seen were cars from Tennessee, Iowa,

Not till they a get a sales tax small on necessities and large on luxuries, then a stiff inheritance tax on the fellow that saves and don't spend. That will get him either way.

No tax paid on the day you buy is as tough as asking you for it the next year when you are broke. It's worked on gasoline, it ought to work on Rolls Royces, cigarets, lip rouge and Coca Cola.

DARING FLIERS MAKING EFFORT TO SPAN PACIFIC

American Fliers Hop Off From Japan Headed Towards United States

No Radio On Plane—Prize Of $25,000 Is Sought By Moyle And Allen

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—In a reconditioned plane unequipped with radio, two daring American airmen were believed far out over the Pacific ocean today on an attempt to link Japan and the United States in a non-stop flight, a feat never yet accomplished by any flier.

The adventurers were Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen, young California fliers, who left Samushiro Beach at 5:30 a. m. Tokyo time today (4:30 p. m. Monday Eastern Daylight Saving Time) for Seattle, Washington, 4,465 miles distant.

No Ceremony

Bidding for the $25,000 prize offered by the Tokyo newspaper "Asahi" and other trophies posted for the first successful non-stop Trans-Pacific flight, the aviators took advantage of the first favorable weather reports and turned their plane's nose out over the sea with an absolute absence of fanfare or ceremony.

One hour and ten minutes after their departure, they swept over Cape Erimo and headed out over the uncharted aerial lanes of the Pacific. The powerful Ochi-Ishii wireless station in Tokyo received the report of their sighting over Erimo and then announced it would be unlikely they would be heard from again until they reached the American coast unless they happened across some steamer plying between the Orient and the Occident.

Carrying sufficient gasoline for forty seven hours of flying, Moyle and Allen hoped to reach Seattle within forty hours, which would land them at their goal around noon (EDT) Wednesday.

Prize Of $25,000

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8.—If Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, California aviators, succeed in putting their plane down within ten miles of Seattle they will be in line for a money prize in addition to the one offered by Asahi, Tokyo newspaper.

Teachers Meet Here; Prepare For Opening Of School Wednesday

More than three hundred fifty young men and women, teachers who will guide the educational destinies of nearly 11,000 boys and girls of New Castle this term, met today in the auditorium of the Senior High School for the usual set-up on the day before the opening of school.

Few of the teachers were absent, and what few were absent were detained by other business. The outlook for tomorrow, according to Superintendent C. C. Green is that every teacher will be in her place, ready to start the new school term.

Dr. Guy, Speaker

Dr. J. Freeman Guy, first associate superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools was the speaker of the day and took for his subject, "The Making Of Jim." In his address he used a mythical boy as his text, taking him through the various stages when he was known as "James, Jimmy and Jim."

The duality of boyhood was brought out, the difficulties attending the constant change in a boy's life and the important part a teacher plays in directing him through the years of adolescence.

Dr. Green presided and introduced first Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian Church who pronounced the invocation. This afternoon the principals of the various buildings are meeting with their teachers for the purpose of laying out the schedule of work.

Not many new faces were seen today in the teachers meeting. Here and there one saw a beginner but for the most part the teachers are the ones who left in June for the sumemr vacation.

Arthur Mometer

There's a host of youngsters waiting for the dawning of the morn, and at present their emotions are twixt love and duty torn. For the school bell will be ringing and the summer will be done, and their books and class room working will replace the summer fun. Put aside are hikes and swimming, put aside are things like that and by eight tomorrow morning they'll be hunting coat and hat, to take up their education, then goodbye to summer play, for the school term starts tomorrow, weather's seventy four today.

DEATH RECORD

Mrs. Mary Lou Carroll, 57, New Castle R. D. 4.

It was reported that the authorities probably would deal leniently with the rank and file of the naval rebels, on the grounds that they had been swayed by carefully laid communistic propaganda. The actual leaders, however, were expected to be court-martialed and executed.

DO NOT

DO NOT be surprised when you have offered your car to be used at time of a funeral of a friend or neighbor, if the funeral director in charge pays no attention to placing it in line or loading same, as laws are very peculiar, and, if he loads or places your car in line, he immediately becomes responsible for any damage that the driver of that car may do until he returns from that funeral, which is not right from point of view or good common sense. Therefore, DO NOT feel badly that some funeral directors are not throwing themselves liable to a heavy damage suit by loading these cars.

Thousand Children Given Free Hair Cut

Approximately 1000 school children will start school tomorrow with cleanly trimmed locks because of the generosity of Frank Sullivan who conducts a barber shop at the corner of Market and Apple Ways.

With eleven chairs running and twelve barbers busier than they ever were before in their lives, the 1000 youngsters got free hair cuts Sunday, September 6. The additional chairs were rented from Youngstown and the cost of the barbers, tools and the additional expenses borne by Mr. Sullivan.

Long before eight o'clock Sunday morning the Sullivan shop was surrounded by boys and girls with hair that needed trimmed. By eight thirty it looked like a World Series and from then on until 5:30 the barbers were busy shearing hair. At closing time the floor was a foot thick with hair, red and black and golden.

"It was just an idea of mine to help the fellows who are out of a job" said Mr. Sullivan. "Their youngsters wouldn't want to go to school needing a hair cut and so I hired a lot of barbers and we did the job."

The "job" referred to means approximately $500 for had each youngster paid the price of a haircut the total would have reached that.

They feel at this time it would be unwise to put a lot of money into glass ware but are willing to aid us in the purchase and storage of such crops that can be taken care of by other less expensive methods, than canning. Both of these matters are now being given thought by our committee and will be reported on at a later date.

"I want to thank the city and county officers for the way they have received our committees and co-operated with us. Also the many private citizens, whose suggestions have aided our committee in its deliberations and work, and to the New Castle News, our sincere appreciation for the way they have carried our full story to the public, and last but not least to call your attention to the volunteer work of a number of our unemployed members, who sat through the week and so ably assisted us in the registration of this vast army of unemployed.

DARING FLIERS MAKING EFFORT TO SPAN PACIFIC

The city of Seattle raised $25,000 by public subscriptioin for the first non-stop flight over the North Pacific. The flyers eligible for the prize could either take off or land within ten miles of the city.

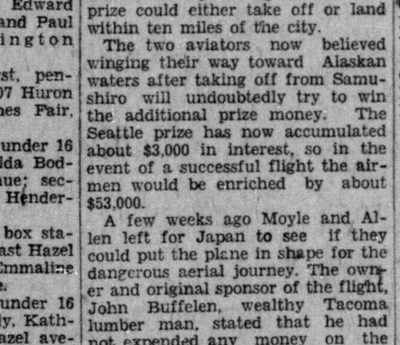
The two aviators now believed winging their way toward Alaskan waters after taking off from Samushiro will undoubtedly try to win the additional prize money. The Seattle prize has now accumulated about $3,000 in interest, so in the event of a successful flight the airmen would be enriched by about $53,000.

A few weeks ago Moyle and Allen left for Japan to see if they could put the plane in shape for the dangerous aerial journey. The owner and original sponsor of the flight, John Buffelen, wealthy Tacoma lumber man, stated that he had not expended any money on the present venture. He said that he merely granted Moyle and Allen permission to use the ship.

(International News Service)

Tokyo, Sept. 8.—The Japanese passenger steamer Hiye Maru, reporting by wireless from a position just south of Anchitka Island, of the Aleutian group said fair weather prevailed over that portion of the Pacific route of Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, American Trans-Pacific fliers.

The ship said that it had seen nothing of the American plane, now on an attempted non-stop flight from Japan to Seattle, but that flying conditions in the vicinity of the Aleutians were good. In addition to clear weather and good visibility, the fliers would find a following wind, the steamship advised.



The chef's importance in history is shown by the especial favor shown celebrated ones by kings and other rulers. Napoleon once said, "I do not care anything about this chef's antecedents nor a report about what he has said. I can't eat his loyalty by tasting his dinner. Have him cook one for me."

It is further set forth that Powers, "feloniously slew, killed and murdeded Mrs. Lemke and buried her buried her body on premises owned by Eva B. Strother and Lucella B. Appeal To President

Washington, Sept. 8—President Hoover has been asked to intercede to obtain "justice" for Harry Powers, the bluebeard slayer of West Virginia, it was learned today.

Counsel for the matrimonial agency Lothario wrote President Hoover complaining vigorously over the alleged third degree treatment accorded him, and demanding an investigation of the circumstances that led up to his supported confession.

The letter, signed by J. Ed Law, counsel for Powers, was merely acknowledged by a white house secretary and forwarded to the department of justice for whatever action is deemed necessary.

The department has taken no action and it was indicated today there is very little prospect of the department's interesting itself in the matter.

REFUSING GUN PERMITS

INFORMATION coming from the office of the sheriff and the chief of police reveals that both Sheriff Frank Johnston and Chief of Police C. C. Horner are not inclined to grant the privilege of carrying a gun to all who make application.

In fact, a very large portion of those who have applied have failed to show the officials any logical reason for toting a gun, and their requests have been refused.

The course being followed by these officials, upon whom devolves the duty of issuing permits to carry weapons under the new state law, will meet with universal approval of the citizenry of this city and community. The law was passed for the purpose of preventing any but those who had a legitimate right, carrying a deadly weapon. Many who have been in the habit of toting a gun have discovered that they have no valid reason for the practice and will have to quit it.

The penalties for those caught carrying guns without the proper permit are severe, and it will be well for any who do not receive a proper permit to desist from the desire to pack a gun.

The sentiment of the community will be with all officers in the enforcement of the new state law, also. It is to be hoped that there will be an effective campaign against thugs and suspicious characters who are carrying guns, and that it will be made so particularly dangerous for them that they will realize the new law is to be effective in putting a halt to promiscuous gun toting. The aim of the measure is to make it perilous for persons of their ilk to be caught with a gun in their possession, as well as to discourage the gun toting by many who have been in a habit of carrying a gun without any real cause.

Make the new law effective!

BANDITS GET THE LASH IN WINNIPEG

From Winnipeg comes a dispatch saying that ten lashes and long penitentiary terms were imposed upon two New York robbers who stole from a bank there after herding five employees into the vault of the institution. Evidently these imported crooks were not familiar with the Canadian sense of justice. In their native land they would have employed high-priced legal talent, cocked their caps on one side and asked, "What are you going to do about it?" Well, they knew what to do about it in Winnipeg. The authorties, not content with giving the gunmen twelve and fifteen years in jail, stripped them and gave them a taste of primitive law.

The incident is a lesson that should be taken to heart in the United States. The time has come when brutal criminals should be handled without gloves. The man that holds up innocent victims at the point of a gun should get life imprisonment. He is a potential murderer and should be placed where he can do no more harm. In the meantime the whipping post ought also to be established for the thugs and gunmen who are mocking our so-called civilization. They should be whipped and whipped until the blood comes; that is the only way of making the punishment fit the crime. Laxity in law enforcement and the possibility of getting out of jail before they have paid the full penalty of the law make them confident that, in the language of the day, they can "get away with murder." They must be taught that they can not get away with murder or attempted murder.

Winnipeg has set an example that should be followed here. We must stop "deploring" crime and do something about it. When we do that the thing we call law will begin to have some meaning for the underworld.

THE BATTLE WITH THE BUGS

Man has done a great deal to conquer those members of the animal kingdom which have disputed his supremacy. The huge reptiles have disappeared, with the exception of the comparatively harmless crocodile and alligator. The saber-toothed tiger roams no longer, and the larger cats are in some danger of extinction. As man takes more and more of the wilderness into his keeping, he exterminates those enemies which are easily attacked. But there are smaller members of the animal kingdom still his ferocious foes.

Considerable emphasis has been given the depredations of the rat, a sly, courageous, skillful struggler for existence. But man does not fear the rat, omnipresent as it is. He may never wipe out the rat, but he can hold it in check, tolerating it, even though at considerable cost. But within recent years man has found himself engaged in a battle with a multitudinous insect world which, while it does not yet threaten his existence, is causing him great trouble and loss, and which, allowed to operate unchecked, can turn his farms into deserts and his forests into dead sticks.

We have seen how the spruce bud worm and the tamarack saw fly have ruined vast forests. We have seen the depredations of the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida. We are told how the Japanese beetle is spreading through the East. For years our farmers have been fighting various pests and learning how to control them; but trade with other continents has brought invasion by others, to fight which we must invent a new technique and new weapons. It is serious warfare; not yet a fight for man's existence, but a battle nevertheless which is almost as costly as an international war in the monetary losses suffered.

Fortunately, man has evolved a science which provides him with vast arsenals of weapons.

Nobody is born wise. People get that way be accumulating blisters.

I Wish I Knew
Why Self-Made Men Are Proud
Why Jealousy Is Comical

When you feel like working it's so much pleasanter to loaf.

* * *

Almost every man feels that if he had the housework to do he'd do it so much more efficiently than any woman he knows.

* * *

Women, secretely at least, look upon all men as mere children who must be managed.

* * *

Small boys look upon little girls as their deadly enemies and look with contempt on the particular small boy that all the little girls think is "cute."

* * *

Self-made men are so often callous and indifferent to the struggles and the suffering and the failures of the people who are as poor and as obscure as they were once. Do they think that because they succeeded all other men can succeed?

* * *

Jealousy is considered comical. But no pain that tears at the heart of man is as terrible and unappeasable as the one the mad lover knows. Then, why does it seem so funny to those who love no longer or think themselves securely loved?

* * *

I have never heard anyone admit that he has no Sense of Humor. (Once or twice I have suspected that I lack that precious possession, but on each occasion I came quickly to my rescue and assured myself that I did. But my own anxiety on the subject seems to suggest that I have not . . .And only the fact that I can smile about it seems to indicate that, after all, I have.)

* * *

Adults so often refuse to take medicine because it "tastes bad." Is sickness, then to be preferred to a temporaary bad taste?

* * *

We do not learn as much as we think we do from experience. We clip and prune experience to fit our own desires, instead of shaping ourselves to the pattern of expericnce.

* * *

Hardly any of us will confess that we are poor judges of human nature.

CHOICE

Life never shouts: Do this! do that!"
I think it doesn't care
What road we take, what choice we make,
What sort of garb we wear.
Who will not wisdom work to learn
Gets only what the fools can earn.

The things we lose, the things we gain
On choice alone depend.
Who wills to stray the easy way
Finds hardship at the end.
Who fears to risk a steep ascent
Must with the valley be content.

Though fortunes change with circumstance
And bodily distress,
The normal man must shape and plan
And build his own success.
And he must say how far he'll go
To claim the joys he wants to know.

We hold our destiny in hand
At least to this extent,
That all may say what price we'll pay
For goals within our bent,
And man from life takes nothing more
Than he has had the courage for.

Life makes no gifts to great or low
Its joys are on display.
How much we'll learn, how much we'll earn
Is left to us to say.
And where at last our progress ends
Upon our strength of will depends.

LET OTHERS SAY IT

Do you try to bluff about yourself when you meet strangers?

Are you anxious to tell about what you are supposed to be doing and the wonderful things you have accomplished in your line.

You think you are getting away with something but you are not.

Successful people don't talk about their business or their private affairs or they wouldn't have any.

Consider the difference among the men you have met.

Some men are always talking about themselves.

Others have said so little of personal import that you have been surprised after a time to learn how really important they are in the business world.

Why should you think that every man is interested in your business?

Who wants to know who and what you are from way back?

They place little value on your acquaintanceship if it be necessary for you to tell all your personal particulars.

Personal advertising is the sort that is not valuable.

Don't set out to sell yourself so much but let the other fellow boost you if you want to create a good impression.

If you are worth it, there will always be those who will say a favorable word for you.

They don't know anything—and they don't want to know anything—about what is going on in the hustling, bustling world beyond their own immediate horizon.

For shame! Life isn't given us to hide behind. We must use it to the utmost if we would play our part in the Great Plan. We must not mark time. We must move on—and forward. Else we shall get into that class of dead-and-don't know-it humans about whom the near-poet wrote thusly:

It operates 60% of the world's telephone and telegraph facilities, 33% of the railroads, and produces and consumes more than 35% of all the electric power. In only 6% of the world's area we produce 70% of all the oil, 60% of all the wheat and corn, and 50% of the copper and pig iron. Modes Of Moment Inspire Study Of Those Of Long Ago

American Affiliations Of Empress Eugenie Give Zest To Discussion Of Demands Of Fashion For Men And Women Of Today

Reminders of the days of Empress Eugenie are provided in the current discussion of fashions, with particular reference to the popularity of the hat which bears the name of the former feminine leader of France. American comment emphasizes the submission of both women and men to the dictates of those who are rulers of the realm in which styles are determined. It is generally agreed that the new decrees will be favorable to business improvement.

"Milady's modes ever are things of wonder," says the ATLANTA JOURNAL. "Let fashion utter a decree and her subjects heed it as if it were Mosaic Law. Now, funny little hats are being worn; yet more startling word comes from Paris—of a new evening gown which envelops the wearer like a mold and has tails like a comet. * * * The ladies will flock to showings and be thrilled. Man—the homunculus—will sit back, gradually grow accustomed, and cheerfully foot the bill. It is a time-old way and one which will continue as long as the clock of the ages ticks. The female of the species must be adorned. Men mutter, but in their hearts they demand it."

"The new mode in women's clothing," according to the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, "characterized by naive historical inaccuracies that with equanimity describe a given hat as 'Empress Eugenie', '1880' and 'First Empire'—all three, when in fact it is not even any one of these—of a sudden has thrust itself into the American scene. And women, apathetic to the historical truth of their attire, but mightily concerned with its looks, are in a great to-do acquiring hats that aspire with widely varying success to achieve a saucy downward tilt over the right eye." The Monitor comments on the great changes in women's clothes during the three decades of the present century while those of men reveal slight changes, but it concludes: "When one considers how rigorously men stick to their streamy coats, and sometimes even vests also, in the warmest weather, the question is apposite whether men or women are the more servile 'slaves of fashion'—men to the fixity of their modes, women to the transciency of theirs."

"Agitation among bird lovers" is observed by the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN, because "the new bonnets demand feathers for decoration," but that paper gives assurance that fears are groundless, for "the feather industry long ago gave up looking to the fields and the woodlands for their sources of supply, and have been keeping an eye on the chicken, the duck and the turkey pens." The Evening Sun continues as to the business interests involved: "Until the Eugenie hat showed up this season the decorative feather business was threatened with extinction. Millinery interests report that several months ago there were only about 20 feather factories in the country, but that now this number has increased to about three hundred, and turkey, duck, goose, pigeon and chicken feathers, especially roosters' tail feathers, are finding ready markets. The ostrich feather business also is looking up. Six years ago there were about a million birds on farms in the Cape of Good Hope territory, the best for those birds. Today there are only about 25,000 ostriches in that section, but the demand for small plumes undoubtedly will see an increase all around. Provided, of course, the new style lasts any time at all."

"Two distinct and separate merits" are found by the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL in the new hats. That paper declares: "First, almost 300 feather factories have suddenly sprung into operation in place of the 20 that were wasting away a year ago. And all because the Princess Eugenie had a whim about a feather in her bonnet. Secondly, one more of the fashion secrets has been exposed. The National Association of Audubon Societies got itself all excited because the feathers of rare wild birds were beginning to appear by the thousands. That put the milliners in a bad pinch. But they were equal to the occasion. They broke down and confessed that those aren't feathers from beautiful birds anyway; they're merely chicken feathers, turkey feathers, goose feathers, pigeon feathers, and so on. Anyhow, don't be silly. You can't pay $5 for feathers from a rare bird and put them on $1.93 hats!"

Commenting on the masculine observer who found the new hat associated with the names of Maid Marian, Rosalind and Peter Pan, the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL replies: "Well, well, we learn something new every day! We always liked the way Maid Marian looked in her 'Robin Hood' costume, but if she had worn a Eugenie hat we are sure we should have disliked her intensely. And we can't remember a hat of this description on Rosalind or anyone else in the Forest of Arden. As for the notion of a Eugenie hat on Peter Pan, it is simply ridiculous. If Maud Adams had been topped off in any such fashion when she asked if we believed in fairies, we should have hollered right out: 'No, nor in anything else'."

Meeting the criticism that "recrudescence of the 'lady' styles will have a disastrous effect upon the comparatively new-found democracy of femininity," the DANBURY EVENING NEWS comments: "If the style arbiters decree that there shall be a distinction between the dress for the idle and that possible in working hours, it will make no difference at all in social standings or in democratic tendencies. During working hours well-to-do girls and women of impeccable social standing will dress in 'working class costume', if this is necessary; they will wear the fluffy ruffles after work is done—as their less well-to-do sisters will do, too."

Recalling the history of the originator of the style, Empress Eugenie, daughter of the Count of Montijo, who stirred Granada by marrying the daughter of the very popular American consul, William Kirkpatrick, the ST. LOUIS TIMES tells of the child of the union that combined the graces and tradition and learning of old Spain with the youth and vigor and hopes of another world. The Times remarks that Napoleon the Third was a happy captive of that child grown to womanhood, and concludes: "Fashions were set as the empress willed. If she mounted a horse so, that was the way it should be done. The furbelows and fripperies of the empire's women were first worn by its new leader in fashion. Among her fancies was a hat, small and low and feathered to suit an oval face—somewhat higher, with a flat top, for the hunt or the bridle path. The court took it up. Thin faces and fat, long and short, square and round, all were shadowed by the Montijo mode. It swept France, it reached over into Germany and Italy. English women took it up and Godey's Lady Book was aflame with it."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AFTER THIS WHAT?

If everyone obeyed the Tenth Commandment given, according to the Book of Exodus, by God to Moses, there would be no need of Government. The violition of that Commandment leads to the commission of all wrongs, from petty theft to murder.

It was man's determination to injure his fellow man which caused the Human Race to have Governments. Notwithstanding that Man has known for a long time that the "people who are least governed are the best governed", the People of the United States of America have multiplied laws to such an extent that no man living even knows the Law and yet it is expected to find Executives who will enforce the Law to the letter.

Every time that Congress or a State Legislature or a City Council makes a new Law or Ordinance there is an opportunity offered to the Officers entrusted with the enforcement of the Law to use the Law as a means for what is generally called graft. This "graft" may be money, political preferment, political power or something of value to the Officers.

When such a Law as the Prohibition Act is passed and a product such as alcohol which can be manufactured for a few cents a gallon can be sold because of that Law for twenty dollars a gallon, the opportunity for a money graft running into the Billions of dollars a year is at once created.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

enforcement of Law have been tempted to become partners with those violating the Law. The temptation has become so great that the enforcement of the Law has become an impossibility and the People are faced with a condition of Lawlessness which is appalling.

No thinking person believes for a moment that every racketeerer who has been robbing, kidnapping and killing in the large cities of this country are not known to the Police of those cities. Every such city is divided into Police Precincts with a Captain, Lieutenant, Detectives and Patrolmen. Those men know every man woman and child within their respective Precincts and know what they are doing. They particularly know every man and woman of the Half-World. Backed up by the Governors, Mayors, District Attorneys and Judges these Police Officers could tomorrow put under arrest every law-breaker in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia or any other city in America.

Why don't they do it? Too much Law.

THE PATHS OF GLORY

Have always been filled by those who forget themselves.
Are seldom trod by those who seek glory alone.
Are open to all who dare to exchange their opinions for better ones.
Will always make room for the man who can serve his fellow man better.
Are never taken by those who ride on the backs of their fellowmen.
Are always hard, hard ways and cowards never enter thereon.
Begin among the haunts of men, but they lead up to God.

State Highway patrolmen stationed here today stated they were well pleased with the safe manner in which motorists operated autos Saturday, Sunday and Labor day and as a result no crashes with serious effects were reported. One or two minor accidents were reported.

The patrolmen rode the highways Saturday night, Sunday and Monday and saw that most of the automobiles displayed extraordinary caution. Over 7,500 Official Inspection Stations In State Are Indicated

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Application blanks for appointment as official inspection stations are now being mailed to almost 7,500 garages and automobile repair shops in the state by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

All places whose owners wish to qualify for the official appointments must return the application forms to the bureau not later than September 30. Motor patrolmen will then investigate each application to make certain that only truthful answers were given to the questions upon which the bureau bases its action in the appointments.

Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles, explained that one reason for deferring the usual statewide fall inspection of all automobiles and trucks was to permit a careful check of the places which will be authorized for inspection. The state-wide inspection may be called at any time upon proclamation of the governor.

While the appointments are to be permanent, this permanency remains only as long as a station meets the requirements of the bureau, Eynon explained. Appointments will be extended only to those applicants whose space, facilities, equipment, trained personnel and general attitude toward the public meet with the approval of the department.

"The interest of the motoring public, as well as the stations themselves, will be safeguarded in every possible way," Eynon said.

"Where stations are found to be improperly conducted or fail to maintain the standard set by the department, the Code gives the authority to suspend the certificate of appointment and to require its surrender, together with all department forms and windshield stickers.

"We are planning to hold two inspection campaigns in 1932 at times to be designated by Governor Pinchot, each to be supported by rigid enforcement. It no longer will be possible for motorists to escape inspection by receiving safety inspection stickers in return for the purchase of gasoline or oil at some particular inspection station. This was done in past safety campaigns. Inspection stickers cannot be used as bribes to buy."

The Vehicle Code, as amended by the last legislature, provides that present official and headlight adjusting stations together with brake adjusting stations, be combined under permanent official inspection stations. Appointments made before the amendment are invalid after January 1, 1932. The new stations will have the same authority to issue headlight and brake certificates as did the old ones. In addition, they will also serve as inspection stations during the periodical compulsory inspection campaigns.

"Strict safety measures are necessary to reduce the appalling number of automobile fatalities in Pennsylvania, Commissioner Eynon declared.

Sheriff Refuses To Grant Any Permit To Carry Firearms

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Sept. 8.—An unusual interpretation of the new state firearms act which became effective last September 1 was made here by Deputy Sheriff Edward Brennan when he refused to issue the legal permits now necessary to carry firearms of small calibre.

Under the provisions of the law, Deputy Brennan declared there was no way to determine just who was a "responsible and law-abiding citizen." He claimed that in the event of a serious shooting or murder by some person holding a permit, the sheriff's office might be subject to severe criticism.

Consequently, he refused to allow his office to be made the "goat of the law." Furthermore, Brennan asserted that it was not necessary for a law-abiding citizen to "tote a pistol."

State Health Secretary Discusses Human Nature

"Gullibility is one of the weaknesses of human nature. One has but to cite the millions of dollars lost annually by the American public through highly colored and fake investments to prove this statement; not to mention fortune tellers, mind readers, seances and a host of other ideas which are half or entirely believed by thousands of people. And while it is most unfortunate to lose money, and perhaps only amusing to be duped by some of the other manifestations of over-confidence, the sad feature is that health, and other life itself, is lost through this tendency," said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"Take for instance the fake cures for cancer, tuberculosis and rupture (to mention but a few) which by way of the newspaper advertisement makes an impressive bid for the sufferer's dollars. Victimized by the seductive words of the advertiser who claims to be able to do the impossible, many hundreds of gullible persons, foolishly believing that a miracle can be performed by these advertising specialists, give their hard-earned money to them, lose the valuable time necessary for a real cure, and not infrequently abbreviate life. These consequences are too high priced for anyone to consider.

"It follows that when one is host to any kind of a malady, the last individual whose advice should be sought is the advertiser who claims to have perfected remarkable cures unknown to scientific medicine.

"It must be understood that millions of dollars are expended annually on medical research which is in charge of the world's great scientists. What they discover in the way of preventive or curative medicine is passed on to the medical profession for use. Therefore, don't be gullible where bodily ailments are concerned. Stay away from quacks and their quack claims. The healing science can and does accomplish wonders, but only when it is given the proper chance."

GREAT PEACH CROP.

(International News Service)

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 8.—When the West Virginia peach market "broke" rather suddenly, growers were estimated to have left at least 200,000 bushels of prime Elberta peaches on their grounds for anybody who cared to pick them, according to Felix J. Scheiderhan, director of the University Experiment Farm at Kearneysville, near here.

THREATENED— with a fate blacker than death!

Crazed with blood-flaming rum—those savage Kaffirs attacked! It will challenge your belief to read of the jungle horrors heaped upon this beautiful woman, who actually lived to tell her own true story in words so frank they terrify.

"IF those degenerate Kaffirs had only killed me," this beautiful woman writes, "I would not today be tortured with telling you of that horrible jungle night.

"Now that I have the safety of a home in this greatest of all lands, it haunts me like a hideous nightmare that my husband and I were once driven from Natal by the ferocious Zulus. From there, we trekked toward the promised peace of Zoutspanberg. Through endless miles of dense, foul-smelling jungle swamps, we waged our fight for life—against lethal snakes, ravenous crocodiles and beasts, and the tsetse fly's death-fever.

"But death at the hands of any natural jungle peril would have been sweet wine compared to the bitter fate awaiting me in the land of the Kaffir savages. They stalked us for days, and every mile I could see fear—fear for me—mounting in my husband's eyes—when finally—the Kaffirs attacked!

"Drunk and crazed, they rent the black night air with guttural shouts. I knew what they meant, and prayed for death, if my husband fell. Yes, rather death a thousand times over!

"My husband cursed, fired, killed one savage after another, but still their closing circle clamped us like a vise—AND THEN—like a charging tiger, a warrior dashed at my husband and crashed at his skull with a deadly Knobkerrie club . . ."

Salvation Army Believes No Man Too Old For World

The Salvation Army does not agree with Dr. William A. Osler that a man is of no use to this world after 60 and that the world and he would be better off if, before reaching that age, he would bid farewell to this mundane sphere. The doctor himself remained on earth until he was 70 and he seemed to be going strong right up to the finish. But it is not on Dr. Osler's case that the Salvation Army bases its firm belief, but, rather, on its faith in God's superior judgment and on the Army's experience in dealing with mankind.

That no man is too old for this world the Salvation Army has demonstrated repeatedly at its industrial homes, one of which is located in Youngstown where a number of men from New Castle are taken care of and given employment. The various articles that are given the Army by families no longer wanting them are salvaged by the men who work in these homes and the salvaged furniture and clothing go to families that are in need. Thus, homeless men, regardless of age, are enabled to earn their own living and help others, in addition. These men not only have a place to work but they have a home in these institutions, with comfortable beds and wholesome food. Men from New Castle are among the men who are thus provided for at the Salvation Army's industrial home in Youngstown. There are New Castle families that are receiving the blessings of the industrial home in Youngstown, wearing apparel, household effects and sundry other necessities.

These homes are merely one of the many philanthropic activities of the Salvation Army throughout the territory of which New Castle is a part.

New Kensington Fireman Killed By Dive In Pool

Dive Into Y. M. C. A. Pool At Brookville, Is Fatal To Man—Neck Is Broken

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Sept. 8.—Suffering from a broken neck when he dived from a balcony into shallow water of the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool here, George Floan, 36, a volunteer fireman of New Kensington, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning in the Brookville hospital.

Floan, who was attending the Fireman's Day celebration here yesterday, went to the pool in the afternoon for a swim. Being an expert diver, he executed several daring dives from the 12-foot balcony into the shallow end of the pool, where the water was a scant two or three feet in depth.

On his fifth or sixth dive, Floan apparently lost his balance in mid-air and struck the water in an uncontrolled position. His neck was broken and his head struck the bottom with the full force of the fall.

Bert Floan, brother of the dead fireman, returned the body to New Kensington today.

Plans Complete For Anniversary

Neshannock U. P. Church To Celebrate 125th Anniversary Thursday

Neshannock U. P. church, the "daddy" of the Presbyterian churches in Lawrence County is ready for the 125th anniversary of its birth which will take place Thursday, September 10. Committees in charge of the various angles of the celebration are prepared and the time intervening will be utilized in correlating the work of the committees.

Back in 1806 the old church began its work as a Reformed Presbyterian church. In 1838 there was a division in the church, some of the members going with the new school of thought. In 1869 the church became a United Presbyterian church and has remmainded such ever since.

Three different buildings have housed the congregation and but 18 pastors have served the congregation, and but 18 pastors have served the congregation. Rev. R. A. Hutchison secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian church will speak as will Rev. Charles Stunkard of Fredonia, a son of the church.

The day will be one of jubilee and many old time members of the church are expected to return for the unusual event.

American Friendship Society
Incorporated As A Non-Profit Organization
P. O. BOX 100. DETROIT, MICHIGAN

My Good friend:-

Would you like to meet some new and interesting lady friends?

I have thousands of ladies from every walk of life.

Wealthy Widows	Beautiful Girls
Retired Widows	Charming Maidens
Business Women	Lovely Nurses
Hotel Owners	Musicians
Farmerettes	Teachers, etc.

ALL anxious to make new friends, and for your approval I am enclosing a few of the many interesting ladies that came with us lately.

You know, so many people do not have the opportunity of meeting the right kind of people. Some live in small towns where there is no one that particularly appeals to them; others again, live in large cities, where it is even more difficult to make friends, because during the day they are at work, having no opportunity to make social friends, and when evening comes, they stay at home, because it is not pleasant to go places alone. Then there are still others who have a lot of friends but not ONE among them would they choose for a life partner.

It's surprising what wonderful benefits my members receive, many of our members "MARRY", in two to three weeks time. What I have done for others, of course, makes me very happy, but that is not what I am interested in, right now. I am interested in "YOU", and "MARRIAGE" is going to be the turning point in "YOUR" life, what is it going to mean to you? A BRIGHT and PROSPEROUS future with a CONGENIAL LADY whom you selected from thousands of others, or a DOUBTFUL future of what "CHANCE" may offer.

This is a facsimile of the circular broadcast by the American Friendship society, of Detroit, the organization through which Harry F. Powers, Clarksburg, W. Va., "Bluebeard" "met" his victims. "Partners for Life" are promised in the circulars which also state that "marriage will be the turning point in your life." Governor Wilber M. Brucker of Michigan has ordered an investigation.

Cermak Will Name New Commissioner For Chicago Soon

Police Commissioner To Succeed Alcock Will Be Named By Mayor Shortly

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—A Commissioner of Police to succeed John H. Alcock who has been acting in that capacity will soon be appointed by Mayor Anton J. Cermak, it was intimated today.

Three personal appointees of Alcock, including chief of detectives John A. Norton, have cleaned out their desks, removing their personal papers, in anticipation of the change.

Foremost among those mentioned as Alcock's successor was Morgan A. Collins, former head of the department, who served four years under Mayor Dever and was the only commissioner to hold the office four consecutive years. Collins' health may not permit him to take the job, though, his friends said.

Lately the Mayor has shown his displeasure over vice and gambling conditions and has ordered several changes personally. The Mayor is satisfied that Alcock has effected a reduction in crime but believed a greater reduction would be possible if vice and gambling were eliminated.

Letter Box Paint Supply Is Awaited

Community Chest Board Will Meet

Directors of the New Castle Community Chest will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Directors room of the Chamber of Commerce, when the recently organized Relief Committee, headed by Mrs. John Elliott will meet with them to discuss plans for the best method to handle the dispensing of relief during the coming winter.

The two bodies are expected to cooperate in the handling of relief this winter and a general discussion of the situation will be entered into.

Sympathy Often Harms If Child Is Depressed

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

You and I have no easy task piloting ourselves upon this sea of life. Sometimes it's pretty stormy and the sailing is rough. Sometimes we are poor pilots and we know it.

At the time we realize ourselves the worst, we may be least able to help ourselves. We are very blue, for instance. Realizing our own state of feelings, we may only be disgusted without selves and with the world, even with those we love. Their tenderness we may not respond to. We may even spurn it. We may act as if we wished they would not bother us. Their kindest words of sympathy, may make us for the moment more depressed, make us, indeed, enjoy our self-pity and magify our estimate of the things which have gone wrong.

Back of all this conduct of ours is a strong item of egotism. We are very self-important. Things have not gone well with us and some people haven't given us the approval we were sure that we deserved.

I have a notion that our loved ones do us most good at such times if they do not let us know that they are conscious of our feelings of despondency: say thing, therefore, about our being depressed but, instead, turn our attention upon some trait or skill or achievement in us which we will think upon with more hopeful feelings: if also they are able to get us to engage in some activity which we are likely to enjoy and come in touch with others who will makes us think of things competing favorably.

If they can drag us off to the theater or to some new setting and can do it without our knowing why, they make new creatures out of us.

When, therefore, we wish to help our family companion or our child recover from despondency we must be subtle in our efforts lest we make him worse. The child of ten or of twenty who thinks no one care for him, or thinks he is often badly treated by his comrades, may feel all the more abused as we honestly proceed to sympathize with him by bluntly acknowledging his sufferings and by encouraging him to pour out his griefs. We can let him know we care and feel with him, but at the same time turn his attention to his social victories, his accomplishments and successes, no matter how small they may seem to be. It does no good to present them as in argument. A more effective way is to touch upon them gently now and then in such a manner that he will believe them.

For him or for us when blue there is no means of relief so helpful as in saying and doing something for somebody else.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards," and "Fear."

The government is planning to issue $1,000,000 bills, and it's going to be pretty hard to get the druggist to change one for you unless you buy at least two stamps.—The Dayton Daily News.

LOOKING BACK
IN NEW CASTLE

There is one thing in which all New Castle people will be interested in knowing about and that is the relative increase in importance of real estate in this city in the years that have transpired since the founding of this city in the last days of the seventeenth century. The town grew very slowly in its earlier days and it is reliably recorded that in the year 1806, eight years after the town was founded, the best lot in the city could be purchased for ten dollars. Alexander Boyles, a blacksmith, did actually purchase the whole square bounded on the west by Beaver street and on the north by North street and with Jefferson street and Washington streets as the probable other boundaries, for $10. As late as 1825 John Reed sold a lot on Mercer street to Thomas Rigby for $30. In November, 1611, James Gillespie laid out an addition to New Castle consisting of 30 lots and bounded by Washington street on the south, East street on the East, Apple Alley on the west and extending to the foot of the hill on the north. From that time on an addition has been added here and there and the price of real estate has grown to such an extent as to make the prices referred to appear actually ridiculous; nevertheless, they are based on practically indisputable facts and would indicate the growth in importance of the city from the time of its inception to the present time.

Fifty Big Buses To Be Withdrawn

Officials Of Big Bus Companies And State Motor Bureau Men Announce Agreement

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—More than 50 motor buses which are in excess of the maximum specifications as to length, width, height and weight specified by the motor vehicle code will be withdrawn from Pennsylvania roads, Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles, has announced.

The withdrawing of the busses followed a conference between representatives of the bus companies and officials of the bureau.

Eynon said the recent campaign against motor trucks and motor truck trains exceeding the state's requirements also is meeting with success. Trucks from other states are being stopped at the state line and warned not to return. Owners of trucks owned within the state who have failed to comply with the law's requirements are being arrested and fined.

Nujol keeps the body functioning normally under all conditions. It works so easily and naturally that it has no upsetting effects. It can't possibly hurt you or disagree with you because it is a pure substance that contains no drug or medicine. HOOPS

A man recently married, had earned, in his bachelor days a reputation for drinking too much.

One day he told his wife he had to be at a meeting to elect a new director. The young wife made him promise he would not touch a drop of anything that evening.

The meeting resulted in the election of a man named Hoops. All the evening the young husband steered clear of offered drinks, and filled with righteous pride occurred to him to phone his wife.

"Hello, dear! It's Jim."

"Oh" replied his wife, "whom did you elect?"

"Hoops, dear, Hoops," responded the husband.

"Oh, Jim," said the wife, her voice breaking, "how could you? After all you promised!"

VICKS VAPORUB NOW IN Stainless FORM...

Your same Vicks
..only Color removed
Same Formula..
Same Price

REAL news in 26 million homes! The Vicks VapoRub you have always used... now comes to you in white, stainless form! A new process simply removes all color—and with it any chance of stain. It's the same matchless formula... at the same price.

There is nothing like Vicks, as most mothers know. It acts externally and directly—right where the trouble is... by stimulation and inhalation—2 ways at once. That's why it's the standby for colds in 3 out of 4 American homes—for all the family.

Your druggist now has Vicks in either the familiar original amber or new white, stainless form. Whichever you prefer, you get exactly the same time-tested medication—the same dependable Vicks—and at the same price.

VICKS VAPORUB

In Original Amber, Too
Your Druggist has Both

For a generation an especially selected amber petrolatum has been used as the base of Vicks, because we found no white or "stainless" base of satisfactory melting point and viscosity that would permit the gradual, long-continued vaporizing action that is distinctive of Vicks.

Through the perfection of a process which removes the natural color, without otherwise affecting its properties, Vick Chemists have at last made Vicks VapoRub possible in white, colorless form, for those who prefer it.

Sparks From New Castle Motor Club

Reopening of Schools Creates New Traffic Hazards.

With the schools of the city scheduled to reopen on September 8 Ralph W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor club, today warned motorists that the return of children to the schoolroom will create new traffic hazards and urged careful driving on the part of every car owner.

Mr. Bolsinger pointed out that the prevention of accidents involving school children is largely within the province of the motorist, and the exercise of caution will go far in reducing the number of deaths and injuries.

"In the vast army of children who will return to the streets enroute to and from school," he continued "will be little ones of five and six years of age leaving the protection and safety of their homes to enter an entirely new world. There will be problems enough without that of the reckless driver.

"While there is no doubt that the teaching of safety in the schools, safety posters and the effective work of the schoolboy patrols have done much to protect these youngsters the problem still challenges the best thought of all citizens." The A. A. A. club executive continued: "Every motorist should feel obligated to have a part in this great humanitarian work, and they should realize the enormous difference their care and consideration would mean in keeping these children safe from physical harm as well as from a fear that may mar the rest of their lives. Such a spirit on the part of car owners will do more than anything else to make for safety."

Observe the seven rules of the road. If heeded they should help lessen accidents. They are:

1. Courtesy—Be a gentleman or a lady. Think of the other fellow operator or pedestrian.
2. Obey Signals—Their sole purpose is to keep you from being killed or injured. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the officer ir right and you are wrong if you don't obey.
3. Be on the Job—Keep your mind on your driving. Watch the conditions of the street. On approaching children give them the best chance to continue living.
4. Keep Under Control—You can't always blame the other fellow. It's usually a 50-50 proposition.
5. Right of Way—It isn't worth fighting about.
6. Know Your Machine—In the last inspection campaign, 1,526,429 automobiles were stopped. Of that number 30 per cent had inadequate brakes.
7. Know the Law—Ignorance of the law is no excuse. That plea don't let you off in court. Be good citizens enough to obey those laws which have to do with the safety of human life.

All residents of Pennsylvania owning motor vehicles are required by law to have them registered in this state.

Safe drivers depends on safe drivers.

I have noticed a tendency among some drivers when traveling on duty roads to keep their windshield wiper working. Don't do it. That practice is not only hard on the windshield wiper, but in time will injure the glass as well. Dust in small particles of grit scratches the glass.

Make the highway safer. Save a life! Prevent an injury! Stop property damage losses! Do not be in a hurry! Be calm! Be sober! Stay awake! Be courageous! Be courteous and cooperate then you will be happy always.

It is my firm conviction that if this program is carried through that our commissioner of motor vehicles will report a 50 per cent decrease in highway accidents next year.

Motorists who have moved since receiving 1931 license should immediately notify the bureau of motor vehicles, using a blank form, M-18, which can be obtained free at the Motor club office, and fill out at once in order that license application blank will be received.

This is what one of our members wrote:

I appreciate your kindness very much in paying my towing bill. I considered this very reasonable, and will endeavor to do my part towards getting new members. Towing service is free to our members throughout the United States and Canada.

A lovely little village lazing in the Virginia sun on calm York river will be the scene of a four-day program overflowing wtih choice features of pageantry, Colonial beauty and historic significance, will be presented October 16 to 20 inclusive.

A Spare Tire

Every motorist today carries one as a matter of service and protection. The cautious driver wouldn't set out on a long tour, or even on a short trip, without a spare tire. Would you?

A membership card in the New Castle Motor club is a "spare tire" that gives service and protection when you need it.

On the Road.

The center line is for your protection. Keep to the right.

To Enforce Law in Ohio.

Members of the New Castle Motor club and motorists from Lawrence county in general are warned by the Youngstown Automobile club that strict enforcement of the law relative to stopping for school buses is to be made in Mahoning county.

The law states:

"When a vehicle is approaching a school bus that has come to a stop and is discharging school children or receiving them, the driver of the vehicle must bring it to a stop within not less than 10 feet from the bus and remain stationary until the children have entered the bus or alighted from it and reached the nearest adjacent side of the road or highway. This applies to all roads and highways outside of a municipal corporation."

Secretary W. H. Loller of the Youngstown Automobile club, in a letter to Secretary Hanlon, urges him to impress upon members of the local club the importance of obeying this part of the Ohio motor code as the law is to be strictly enforced in the future. Every school house in Mahoning county is to be "picketed", Secretary Loller states, as this law must be enforced to the letter.

Local motorists will take due cognizance of this fact and when approaching a school bus, will take measures to stop within ten feet of the bus if it is stopped along the road to receive or discharge school children.

P. S. Protection when you need it. Service when you want it.

BURGLAR LIFTS 325-POUND SAFE

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 8.—"What-a-man! What-a-man."

That was all local police could say when they were told of a strong-armed burglar who walked away with a 325-pound safe and the $130 cash inside.

Witnesses to the robbery told police the man carried the safe from a store and loaded it onto a small wagon on which he calmly hauled it away. While rounding a corner, the cargo fell from the wagon.

The powerful burglar merely lifted it on again and proceeded on his way. It was believed, however, that accomplices with an automobile later helped the burglar escape with the safe.

NEW SYSTEM AT STATE.

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 8.—The coming football season at Penn State College marks the beginning of a new system in Nittany athletics. With the graduation of the 1931 class the last "athletic scholarship" man left the institution. All teams this year will be made up of men who enrolled in the normal process without financial inducement.

Corn Abundant In Krah Home Garden

Out of the home garden which Albert G. Krah maintains at 1020 Huey street has come a single stalk of corn bearing seven good-sized ears. The stalk was picked and brought to The News for display.

Krah's vegetable garden is one of the best in the district. The sweet corn stalk, said John Dann, Krah's father-in-law, who brought it in, is a sample of its productivity.

U.B. Thrifty says—

Your Money Can Earn 30 Per Cent Interest

The Story is This:—

Mrs. A. buys an article for $75.00 on "installments" payable monthly, because it is so "easy" to pay that way, having a year to pay for it.

Mrs. B. prefers to pay cash and instead of buying now opens an account at the DOLLAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, paying $1.50 per week for 50 weeks and gets 5% interest on her money, equalling $1.57.

She then takes her check which she gets at the end of the 50 weeks and makes her purchase, and because she pays cash she gets a discount of $7.50.

This saving plus the interest on her savings nets her over 30% interest.

Result—Thrifty Mrs. B. has $9.07 extra to spend while Mrs. A. has none.

Thrifty folks save their money with us and get 5% interest on their money.

BORROW

■ Wait! Before you borrow elsewhere ask what rate you will be charged. Then come in and ask Household's rate.

■ You will find that Household charges nearly one-third less than the usual small loan rate on loans above $100 and up to $300. In actual money, that is a saving to you of $3 the first month on a loan of $300, $2 on a $200 loan, and proportionate savings every month as you pay back the loan.

■ Worth while, isn't it? Especially when Household offers you every advantage—courtesy, strict privacy, quick service! The only signatures required are those of husband and wife.

■ There is no obligation in talking it over. Come in.

Stabber Escapes After Cutting Of Man Near Sharon

Stabbing Victim Likely To Recover—Believe Fugitive Fled Over Into Ohio

WOMAN INVOLVED OFFICIALS LEARN

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 8.—Mercer county officers today were searching for Joe Minerovich, 40, in connection with the stabbing of Alex Scotack, 41, of 8 Superior street, who was in Buhl hospital this morning suffering severe knife wounds in the left chest that give him just a "fair chance for recovery."

Minerovich, a roomer in the Scotack home, fled immediately after the stabbing, which witnesses said occurred outside the Scotack residence Sunday night. It was believed that the alleged knife-wielder had gone into Ohio, as the state line is only a few rods from the house where the affray took place.

County detective Sam Leyshock said that the two men had quarreled over Minerovich's attentions to Mrs. Scotack. Scotack was suddenly attacked by the roomer who inflicted three wounds near the heart with a large penknife.

Girl Scouts Will Have Convention At Buffalo, N. Y.

National Officers Known In New Castle Will Have Prominent Parts

News of the coming annual Girl Scout leaders' convention at Buffalo has been received here and it will be of interest to local Girl Scouts and executives to know that prominent parts will be taken at this meeting by Miss Josephine Schain and Mrs. Frederick Brooke, who attended the regional convention in New Castle last May.

Elaborate plans are being made for this gathering which will take place October 14-17. Among the distinguished guests to be present is Mrs. Frederick Edey, national president, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, honorary president, has expressed the hope that she may be present, also.

While both Mrs. Edey and Mrs. Nicholas F. Miss Schain was appointed national director of the Girl Scouts in November of last year. On the morning of October 15 she will report on the achievements of the national organization during 1931.

RUSH WORK ON IMPROVING OF MERCER ROAD

About Two Miles Of Highway Yet To Be Concreted—All Route Graded

Work on the construction of the New Wilmington-Mercer improved highway is progressing nicely, although the road is not ready for use as yet. It was expected that the new highway would be completed by the first of September, but there are still a couple of miles of roadway to be concreted.

Grading the highway is completed, and concrete has been poured from Mercer to a point near the bottom of the Garret hill, leaving a couple of miles of concrete yet to be poured. The Garret hill, which was one of the steepest in this district, has been graded down some, and a new bridge has been constructed at the foot of this hill, where there was a narrow one way bridge.

Likewise numerous curves and grades on the highway between New Wilmington and Mercer have been eliminated in the improving of the thoroughfare.

When completed this highway will be much travelled, it is indicated, as it is the direct connection between New Castle, Mercer, Greenville and other points north.

Pittsburgh Police Further Probe Attack On Armstrong's Headquarters

SEVERAL NABBED FOLLOWING FIGHT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 8.—While police sought to probe further the raid of armed men on the Oakland headquarters of Joseph G. Armstrong, candidate for re-election for county commissioner, the condition of Walter Goliat, alleged political gangster and one of the participating raiders, remained critical today in West Penn hospital.

Detectives last night sought to question Goliat in regard to the shooting up of the headquarters and the precipitation of a general fracas between forces of opposing candidates for the commissionership posts, but were unable to obtain a statement from him because of his grave condition.

Goliat had been released on $26,000 bond for an alleged prior political scalp wound was caused, police say, by a brick thrown at him as he and others fled the campaign headquarters after the shooting and hand to hand fighting.

William McGraw, one of the headquarters defenders, and who, police said, admitted flinging the brick that struck Goliat, was held by police today as well as Ben Manuel and Matt Catania, who brought Goliat to the hospital.

New Wilmington Laid Out At Early Date

Although New Wilmington was not incorporated as a borough by an Act of the legislature, until April 4, 1863, the town was actually laid out and settled in 1824.

The land originally incorporated in the town consisted of between three and four hundred acres, and extended to the Mercer county line. The ground on which the original town stands was a one-hundred acre tract purchased by James Waugh, shortly before the town was laid out.

New Wilmington was only made a half-borough in 1863, and it was not until 1872, that it became a complete borough, with all the powers pertaining to such a corporation.

The town was laid out by George Waugh and his sons in 1824, in which year, the first buildings were built. Before the town was laid out, a house had been built by James Hazlep. James Waugh built the second. He had settled in what afterwards became Lackawannock township, Mercer county, in 1798.

The first house in the newly-laid out town was erected by one Dr. Hindman, and in 1877, when Everts' history was compiled, was still standing at the southwest corner of the east Diamond. It was a log structure.

Soon after Mr. Hindman built his house, a low one-story frame building was put up by Dr. Philip Crowl. John Galloway built a tannery about this time. It stood at the east side of the village, on the site later occupied by Alexander Boyd for a wagon shop.

David Carnahan opened the first wagon shop, next came W. R. Hazlep. The first shoe shop was kept by Robert Hamilton. Thomas Wilson had the first saddle and harness shop, which stood at the southwest corner of the West Diamond. The first blacksmith shop was opened by Philip Crowl, who afterward moved to East Brook, where he also had a shop.

The Waughs had a general store about the time the town was laid out, it being the first one in the place. The next one was opened by James Hazlep, a cousin of J. W. R. Hazlep. J. and A. Galloway bought Hazlep out and carried on the store for some time.

Thomas Brown had the first tailor shop, although William McCready had done some work before Brown came, but never opened a shop.

The first school building was a frame building, which in 1877 was still standing, and was used as a dwelling. The first teacher was Robert Miller. Long before the town schoolhouse was built, a log schoolhouse was put up a quarter of a mile west of town, the date of its erection being about 1810-12. In 1868, a two-story brick building was erected.

The first hotel was built about 1834 by Thomas Wilson, it stood on the north side of the street, across from what was later the Central hotel. The second building was the later "Lamb House," built by Robert Hammond about 1835. The Lawrence House was the next hotel and was occupied for a time by a man named Wier.

Among the early settlers, in addition to those already mentioned were: Benjamin Junkin, who came from Hope Mills, Mercer county; Thomas Pomeroy, William M. Francis, James A. McLaughry, Joseph Cowden, William D. Clark and James S. Hunter.

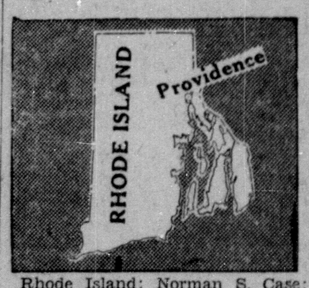
Puzzlers

What state is this? Who is its governor? What is its capital? How does it compare in size with the other states? Where was the first settlement and who was the leader?

ANSWER TO PUZZLE



Rhode Island: Norman S. Case: Providence: it is the smallest state: Roger Williams made the first settlement at Providence.

Words can mean lots of things—but you can always trust your taste. If a cigarette tastes right, if it satisfies you right down to the ground, then it is right.

There are all kinds of tobaccos—some good, some not so good. And there's the Chesterfield kind—the best Turkish and the best Domestic that grows. Full-ripe, sun-cured, aged in Nature's thoroughgoing way—and as mild and smooth and sweet as sun-ripened fruit. Chesterfields taste right—because they are right.

And something you can't taste—that's important too! The finest cigarette paper—so pure it burns without taste or odor!

And behind this unchanging good taste, all the resources of a great organization—men, money, science, experience. It takes them all to make a great cigarette, and they're all behind Chesterfield.

Your taste is dead right. Chesterfields do satisfy.

Inoculation Is Advised Before Entering School

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Before your child enters school, I advise that preventive vaccination against smallpox and diphtheria be given. Typhoid fever preventive inoculation is not so important for the school child, because typhoid fever is not communicated from one infected person to another uninfected person. Smallpox and diphtheria are so communicated, and there being a distinct danger of spread in this way from school contacts, it is highly important that the school child should be protected against them by vaccination before entering school.

Typhoid fever prevention should, however, be given to every individual. It is true that hygienic control of the water supply has practically caused typhoid fever to disappear from the earth, but dependence on that is not always certain, and should by supplemented by individual typhoid prophylaxis. The method is harmless and certain, if properly performed. Children of five stand it better than adults.

Several years ago great hopes were entertained that immunity to scarlet fever could be given. This may come soon, and would be an enormous advantage, but the method as originally planned has not proven to be successful and cannot be wholeheartedly recommended. If any parent wishes to try it, it may be said that the scarlet fever preventive inoculation does not harm, but its results are too uncertain to allow of strong recommendation. If any immunity is conferred it is short of duration.

In the presence of an actual case of scarlet fever, however, the use of the antitoxin is advised.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. W. H.: "My oldest sister married her own first cousin 20 years ago. She had two girls, as smart mentally as any two girls could be. One expects to marry a very bright young fellow, no relation to her, but is afraid she might have children mentally deficient. What is the chance?"

Answer: The marriage of first cousins, provided they are of good stock, results in sound progeny, mentally and physically. If there is no mental deficiency in the family on either side, the chances are that the marriage described will result in normal children.

F. P.: "I am troubled with rose fever. It starts the latter part of May. Is it the climate, the food, or do I need an operation on my nose?"

Answer: It is due to sensitiveness to the pollens of grass. Food has nothing to do with it. Operations on the nose are useless, to prevent it. See articles in this column during May.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care the Hair and Skin."

Trust no Substitute

because it "looks like Kotex"

MANY substitutes look like Kotex. But few offer anything like the strict, hygienic purity of Kotex . . . the pad that's bought by hospitals in enormous quantities.

This health protection should be your first concern in selecting a sanitary pad. You have it in Kotex. But how about those unknown substitutes, of whose makers you know nothing? How are they made? Where? Would hospitals sanction them? Would you, if you knew their origin?

Why take chances, ever? Kotex is available everywhere . . . just insist on genuine Kotex.

Kotex is wonderfully soft. It is treated to deodorize. Adjustable. Disposable. Wear it on either side.

PHYSICAL BODIES OTHER THAN THE SUN AFFECTING PLANET'S ORBIT

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

One is impressed with precision in the astronomer's talk when the astronomer computes the orbit of a newly discovered planet, asteroid or comet. Next thing to being able to perform such a computation is to see the problem stated. The "seven elements of a planet's orbit's' relate to the attraction of the sun alone, not to the attraction of other planets in the system. These also have to be computed. Percival Lowell in his day computed the relative location of the yet undiscovered planet Pluto by the perturbations it created in the planet Neptune, and Neptune was mathematically located before discovery by computing the distubances it created in the orbit of Uranus.

One reason the French seem queer is because they don't even talk idealism while picking somebody's pockets.

Little Girl's Skull Fractured

Runs Into Fender Of Passing Car As She Is Crossing Street

Vernice Bookner, aged 8, of 637½ Forest street, sustained serious injuries late Sunday afternoon on E. Washington street, near Allen street, as she and her sister, Verna, aged 13, were crossing from the east to the west side of Washington street, and she ran into the left front fender of the car driven by Meade Retallack of 204 Sample street, Edenburg, Pa., which was enroute east at the time.

Following the accident, the little girl was picked up by a passerby and rushed to the New Castle hospittal, where it was found that she had sustained a fracture of the frontal bone of the skull, a fracture of the nasal bone and two fractures in the right arm.

The little girls were enroute from Mission and Sunday School services when the accident occurred.

Crowds Throng Tent Many Turned Away

Williams Evangelistic Party Is Attracting Interest In Their Spiritual Services

Sunday was a great day at the Energy tent meeting, where Evangelist Oliver E. Williams, Ph. D., Th. D., D. D., and his party are conducting a two weeks evangelistic campaign under the auspices of the Greenwood Methodist Episcopal church.

Sunday morning Dr. Williams spoke on "The Promised Land". Sunday afternoon the evangelist used as his subject, "Christ's Physical Ministry", and in the evening he spoke on "Dollars or Sense". In the afternoon the tent was full to capacity and at night many were turned away. People came as far as 123 miles to attend the services.

Some of the pastors present at the meeting Sunday were Rev. Withers, pastor of the Euclid avenue M. E. church; Rev. Edwin Shaffer, pastor of the New Bedford M. E. church; Rev. Kolb, pastor of the Harmony Baptist church; Rev. A. P. Shaffer, pastor of the Forestville M. E. church, and Rev. Socia.

Last night Dr. Williams spoke on the most concerned subject of the present day, "The Second Coming of the Lord". He traced the science of politics from the beginning of Gentile world rulership unto the present time, showing that Gentile world rulership will end with the reign of a super-man called Anti-Christ. The signs of the times point to the immediate appearance of Christ, he said.

Mrs. Angeline Williams and Prof. J. R. MacMurray rendered special music during the day. They were assisted by Miss Helen Hill and Maring Swart at the piano. Tonight the musicians will fulfill a few of the many requests to be played. At 6:30 the Booster chorus will meet with "Mac" for their rehearsal and story hour. At seven o'clock Mr. MacMurray will entertain the young people for 15 minutes in the church preceding the evening musical program.

These services are inter-denominational. They will continue every night, including Saturday, and will begin promptly at 7:25, eastern standard time.

Rev. Maitland extends an invitation to all to participate in these meetings and to enjoy this spiritual awakening.

Dr. Williams will speak tonight on "Anti-Christ"—Is He Already in the World?

Mock Arrest Is Program Feature

Fox Is Charged With "Operating Lottery Scheme In Church"

A mock arrest was a part of the program Sunday morning at the regular service of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church, North and East streets. It was all in fun, but the officiality complex to it made it seem realistic.

Mayor W. H. Gillespie and Councilman Stanley Treser charged George C. Fox, the class president with operating a lottery scheme within the confines of a church. The challenged scheme had to do with a whirlwind attendance drive to be launched.

To make it bad, Councilman Treser had two of the city's police officers on hand to escort Fox out.

For his chief defender Fox had Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, who interceded before the Mayor and councilman with all the force of his judicial oratory. But the judge's plea brought no favorable response.

The uniformed officers led Fox out, handcuffs fastened to both wrists. Later he and the other "perpetrators" promised to see to it that 250 men would be present for class next Sunday.

The "arrest" came after the morning's exercises and marked a part of the novel pre-attendance drive plans. The class register boasts a total of 125 men who attend regularly.

State Board Meets To Award Contract For Pymatuning

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—The water and power resources board of the Department of Forests and Waters met this afternoon to award the contract for the construction of the Pymatuning dam for flood control in the Shenango valley.

Thirty bids for the construction were studied at a meeting of the board last Friday, but no action was taken on awarding of the contract. At the Friday meeting the board discussed the bids for three hours behind closed doors of the Senate caucus room. No reason was advanced by the board for postponement of awarding of the contract.

TAX REDUCTION

To the Voters of New Castle:

"Tax reduction" is a catch phrase which has great appeal, particularly in times of depression.

But no one should be mislead by such catch phrases.

Our city needs ample fire and police protection, proper sanitation and lighting, and certain improvements must be made from time to time or the progress of our city will be stopped. These things cost money.

If elected mayor I will insist that public money be spent wisely and cautiously and that no more money be raised by taxation than is required for proper use.

I have faith that the thinking people of New Castle will not be swayed by a campaign slogan the only purpose of which is to catch votes.

Respectfully yours,

Charles E. McGrath

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

Central Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Wide-eyed wanderings:

The sandwich is back to a nickel, according to signs in 42nd St. and in the Bowery—a record low since the war. One restaurant near Chatham Square features a 20-cent dinner!...

A pause near any of the buildings under construction yields a curious discovery to sharp ears: workmen, poised high on girders or traipsing across frail planks 500 feet in the air, are singing! And not with the casual melody of the tub, but with the chest-heaving ambition of grand opera. Some of the Toni's and Mac's have no mean chords, either; perhaps they have heard of radio scouts now on the prowl for a new crooner and hope valiantly for that one-in-ten million chance.

Careful search failed to disclose a single one of the chorus girls on roller skates reported by a German magazine to be common on Broadway now. . . . I have wondered whether this was a depression item or a publicity stunt. . . .

The sidewalk cafe in Fifty-first street—gay awnings and intimate little tables, a brave and praiseworthy attempt to capture the Continental idea. . . . But the reason why such places don't thrive in New York was apparent from this one: the table linen was fuzzed with a pale gray layer of soot and waiters had to maintain constant vigilance to keep the water in the glasses unflecked.

• • •

MILLS OF THE GUARDS

New noiseless subway turnstiles have subtly slowed the pace of the 5 o'clock mob . . . Without the machine-gun clatter of the metal-geared gates, the folk hurrying home seem to have lost some stimulus to frantic hurry . . . Maybe it's the noise that makes the hurry everywhere and not the hurry that causes noise. . . .

A friend down at headquarters relates this one: Yesterday a long-haired gentleman breezed into the building with a shiny metal jacket in his hand. He had a new bullet-proof vest, so light that it was no more uncomfortable than a boiled shirt, so invincible that Big Bertha would be helpless against it . . . The inventor peeled off his coat and started to don the garment for a test, but Detective Sergeant Butts relieved him of it and draped it around an oak post. . . . The cop then fired ten shots at the thing from ten feet, when the inventor shouted that he wanted the test made on him and not a post. . . . Every bullet was found imbedded several inches in the oak. . . . "You don't know how!" screamed the owner of the riddled vest as he seized his brain child and hurried indignantly out. . . .

• • •

Notice the new River House near Beekman Pl., is practically ready... Supposed to be the ultra something or other in East River apartments . . . Dog houses with every penthouse. . . . And pent houses, by the way, have come into their own within the past five years. . . . Ten years ago there were only four in town. . . .

Believe it or not, I actually saw a man walking down Park Ave. this morning with a shotgun in the crook of his arm! Maybe he's one of the deer huntsmen come down to New York to offer their services to the police as gang-snipers. On the other hand he may be one of the gangsters, forewarned. . . .

Roger Burlingame, the novelist, is reported slated for editorship of one of the most distinguished class magazines. . . . He will sail shortly for this country from Paris . . . Seeing the sprightliness in contents of that particular magazine for the current month adds color to the rumor. . . . Evidently the present management is making a bid to stay. . . .

Passing through Hoboken from the boat the other day I noted that the place has returned to its old routine, now that the party theater groups have departed. . . Not many months ago it was Hoboken which was going to become the New Latin quarter; some of the shops had smocks on display, ready for the influx. . . .

Avenue A is the real Bohemia now, so far as any such district exists in the town. . . . What many people don't realize is that no settlement of artists and writers can endure because it inevitably gets publicized and the cheap rents which attracted serious workers begin to climb. . . . But despite the gradual collapse of Greenwich Village from a bonafide esthetic stronghold into a mart of tourist atmosphere, the Whitney Museum of modern art will be located in W. Eighth street, in the heart of the Old Village. . . . It can serve as a memorial to the vanished spirits of the place, anyway.

Colored Man Is Severely Injured

Hit And Run Driver Is Arrested By The Police Some Time After Accident

L. Jones, colored, 49, 1312 Moravia street, is in the New Castle hospital suffering from severe body bruises sustained late Monday afternoon on Moravia street when struck by the car of Pawn Palmer, colored, while being driven by Kalim George of 1116 South Jefferson street. Officer Frank Reynolds was on the scene shortly after the accident and had the injured man removed to the hospital and then gave chase in another car, after the Palmer car, which did not stop.

Palmer and George abandoned the machine finally and it was found that the latter had taken the license from his brother's truck and placed it on the Palmer machine, police say. He was apprehended later in the day by Detective John Young and an assisting officer, and was turned over to the state highway patrolmen today.

Ellwood Gridders Have Scrimmages

Coach Ingle Advances Plans—Has Scrimmage On Friday And Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8—Coach R. V. Ingle decided to advance his plans one day Friday afternoon by conducting a strenuous scrimmage session. Another scrimmage was held Saturday afternoon. This did not surprise the Ellwood gridders as all were impatiently waiting the scrimmage sessions, which will be held more often this week.

The grid aspirants fought with tooth and nail Friday to win their positions. The first two teams seem to be well drilled after two weeks of faithful training and Coach Ingle is enthused over his prospects this year. A strong offense was shown by the first team who marched to their goal line with rapid precision. Some clever and interesting plays were performed at the time.

The first team lined up with Neff and Welsh at the ends, Vogt and Maietta at the tackles, Shardone and James at the guards, Cavalier at center, Wilson at quarterback, Pander and Frisk at the halves, and Vanderillo at full. Three other teams were given an opportunity to scrimmage against the first team, after which the second and third battled, then the third and fourth. The boys showed wim and vigor in the sessions.

It was announced that Sam Neff will again captain the team this season. This is Sam's fourth and last year in varsity football for Ellwood High. He had won the respect and admiration of his team mates and coach last year and was again elevated to this honored position.

Two apparent changes in the line were made by Coach Ingle's this season. Eugene Cavalier, varsity right end last year was transferred to fill a center vacancy that loomed for a while as a difficult position to fill. Joe Welsh, varsity tackle and track star will be seen at right end this year. Joe has proved himself to be a very fast man and hence the change.

There is still about two weeks before the first game with Union Township here and some changes are expected in the team line-up before that time.

Johnsons Team Begins Training

Independent Grid Team Is At Work For Season In Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8—Johnson's Independent gridders of Ellwood City held a stiff work out at the Armory field. After a rigid period of calisthenics this was followed by a tough scrimmage session. A signal drill concluded the day which revealed quite a few bruises.

The Johnson's enjoyed quite a successful season last year and according to present indications it will be much better this season. The team now, more than ever resembles the championship team of 1925. The line will average over 200 pounds. Bob McMurdo and Johnny Ursu will be at the wing positions, Tom McMurdo and Bob Morrow at the tackles, Bob Griffiths and Alfred Duncan at the guards, Chuck Demas at center, Dicky Friedhoff at quarter, Segedei and Justine at the halves, and Sanders at full. There still may be changes in this lineup as there is still an abundance of good material left. At the last count 30 men had reported for the Johnson team and it is believed that this number has increased.

The work out was in charge of Nick Shuler, former star Pitt quarter back and Tom McMurdo. The Johnson's revealed great power and drive in the scrimmage session. Auto Accident Near Ellwood

State Highway Patrol Reports Automobilists Use Extreme Caution

State Highway Patrolman Faust was called to Ellwood City late Sunday evening to investigate an auto accident that occurred about a mile and a half south of Ellwood, in which a New Castle automobile, owned and driven by Robert Sawatzke of 498 Neshannock boulevard, was quite extensively damaged when rammed by a machine operated by Ted Meneice of 828 Crescent avenue, Ellwood City, and owned by L. J. Dindley of 304 Glen avenue, Ellwood City.

The Dindley car was damaged to the extent of a broken rear bumper and a smashed back fender. The Sawatzke car had the entire left side badly damaged from fender to fender, including both hub caps and runningboard.

The accident happened on what is known as the new improved Country Club highway, the car operated by Meneice going north toward Beaver Falls and Rochester, and in making a sharp curve failed to straighten out the wheels and Sawatzke was crowded almost off the road and still his machine was struck by the heavier car and careened crazily around the road for a time, barely missing plunging down a steep embankment, and when the car was finally halted it was up against a steep hill on the lefthand side of the road. None of the occupants of either of the cars was injured, outside of a bad shaking up.

The names of the other three occupants of the car operated by Meneice were not learned, although one of them was named Dindley, it is believed. Riding with Mr. Sawatzke at the time of the wreck were his wife, Dorothy Taylor Sawatzke, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Philip Walther of North Walnut street, New Castle. The young couples had been to Rochester and were en route home when the accident happened.

The investigation by Highway Patrolman Faust is still under way. There are several phases of the accident that are a little hazy at present. Meneice admitted to the officials that he was in the wrong.

Labor Day Is Spent Quietly

Many Residents Hold Picnics While Golf Links Attract Hundreds

Labor Day was spent in a quiet manner by New Castle residents, most of them holding their last little outings of the year as the vacation season was brought to a close.

The various golf links in the district drew a great many of the golf fans, who were out for their final fling. According to those who were out on the Municipal course Sunday and yesterday, the links had two of the biggest days of the season.

There was little going on in town, however, outside the regular picnic held by organized labor at Cascade Park, where the customery Labor Day program was carried out.

Most people had little family picnics, but a great many spent the day at their regular tasks. For them it really was Labor Day.

Postal Savings Show Increase

Percent Of Growth Is Less In New Castle Than In Nation As Whole

Postal savings deposits in New Castle increased 84 per cent during the 1931 fiscal year ending June 30, last, figures just released by the United States Post Office Department today reveal.

Postal savings deposits on June 30, 1931, totalled $40,839. This was an increase of $18,655 over the amount on deposit on June 30, 1930, the last day of the previous fiscal year.

In the country as a whole postal deposits doubled during the year, increasing by approximately $400,000,000.

In commenting on the situation Frederic A. Tilton, assistant postmaster general, states that it has a peculiar angle, inasmuch as in many communities people withdrew their money from banks to deposit them with Uncle Sam, while the postal department turned around and redeposited the money in the very bank from which the people withdrew it.

One From District Suspended Last Week, While Two Regain Rights

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Showing an increase of eight more than the preceding week, license cards of 84 automobile drivers were withdrawn by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles during the week ending September 3, it was announced today. Thirty-six of this number were revocations and forty-eight suspensions.

During the same period, operating privileges were restored by the Bureau to sixty-three drivers. During 1931, until the present time, the bureau has revoked 1,820 drivers' licenses and has ordered the suspension of 2,118 others.

Philadelphia was again tendered the largest number of revocations and suspensions.

Among those whose licenses were suspended, was Mike Salance of Pulaski, while driving privileges were restored to James Carratza of 1203 Center avenue, Ellwood City; and Lawrence Amobile, rear 510 East Home street, New Castle.

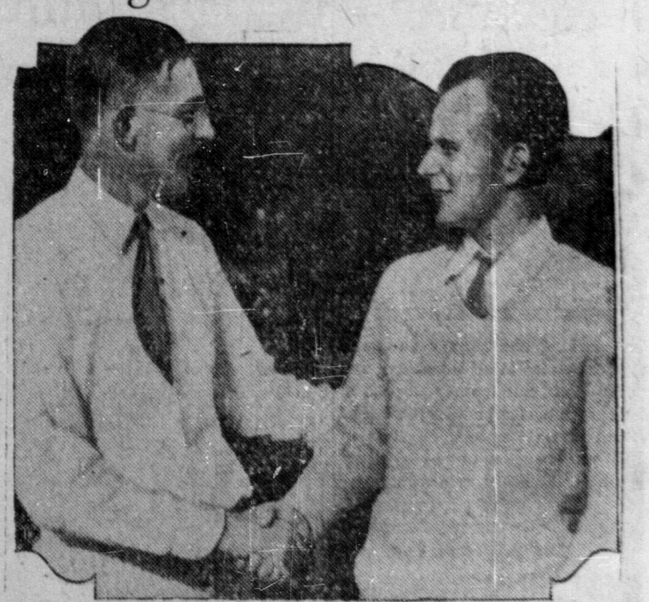
Cliff Montgomery (center) is looked upon by Coach Little of Columbia's football squad as the quarterback of the "Lions'" 1931 varsity. "Mouris," one of Harry F. Sinclair's famous Rancocas Stable at Saratoga, N. Y., is shown in the auction ring during the public sale of the oil king's horses. This splendid example of high-bred horse flesh brought $7,000 at the auction which saw the wrecking of the once powerful Sinclair stable. Twenty-five horses were sold under the hammer for a total of $81,300.

It Knocked Man Out of Bed; Hurt Pilot

When trying to take off from Logan Field, at Baltimore, this ten-passenger, tri-motored airliner crashed into a house, ripping the wings from the plane and disturbing the equilibrium of the garage where it finally came to rest nearby. The human casualties were one man tossed out of bed by the crash against the house, while the pilot, Earl Smith, was injured. No passengers were in the plane.

Congratulations in Order



Francis Ouimet (left), amateur golf champion of seventeen years ago, and young Jack Westland, Chicago district champ, are shown indulging in the good old handclasp of true sportsmanship at the Beverly Country Club, Chicago, scene of this year's National Amateur Tournament. Ouimet downed Billy Howell, of Virginia, to enter the finals, while Westland had to outplay the popular Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., to meet Ouimet for the coveted title.

Detective Held In Man's Death

Murder Charges Will Be Placed Against Detective For Killing Man

RAIDING HOME FOR DRY VIOLATION

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Charlotte Settimio, widow of James Settimio, who was slain yesterday by a detective reported armed with a warrant charging dry law violation, today collapsed in her home here while authorities sought an unbiased account of the killing.

Settimio was shot and killed by Calvin Gorgy, county detective, at a roadhouse at Delaware Water Gap. Gorgy declared his pistol had been accidentally discharged while he was trying to handcuff Settimio.

Justice of the Peace Harry R. Brewer, who disarmed Gorgy a few minutes after the shooting, said:

"I shall insist at the coroner's inquest that Gorgy be held for murder. I was unable to discover he carried a warrant. In my opinion there was no justification for this killing."

Mrs. Settimio, before collapsing, declared:

"There was no reason for this shooting. It was murder—that's all."

Settimio died in his wife's arms. Mrs. Settimio said there was no struggle and that the detective fired without warning.

Cost City $3,270 To Set Monuments

Council Refers Estimate Of City Engineer To Committee

Council met Monday, Labor Day, in conformity with state law. The meeting was held at the city building with all members excepting Councilman C. H. Reeves present. He is on a vacation. Only one item of business was transacted.

The item was submitted by F. F. Miller, city engineer, who estimated that the probable cost of surveying and monumenting the channel lines of the Shenango river would cost the city $3,270. The work would consume three months.

Under the plans of water resource and power board of the state department is willing to send an engineer here providing the city pays expenses and cost of the monuments.

Engineer Miller estimated the expenses of the engineer at $150, a month. Other salaries related to the work would raise the salaries to $2,070. Sixty monuments would cost $20, each or a total of $1200.

The party which would be necessary for the work would consist of the state engineer, local instrument man, head and rear chainmen and a helper.

Miller said the high cost would result from the inaccessibility of most of the locations. The estimate was referred to committee of the whole.

Bayles Captures Air Speed Title At Cleveland, O.

Lowell Bayles, Massachusetts Flier Wins Trophy Cup Race At Air Races

MAJOR DOOLITTLE FORCED TO QUIT

New Speed King Turns Ten Laps Of Race Course In 236,239 Miles An Hour

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 8.—Lowell Bayles, a 31-year-old leathery youngster from Springfield, Mass., was America's 1931 speed champion of the air today, with victory in the grinding 100-mile Charles E. Thompson trophy race closing event of the national air races, behind him.

Bayles gunned his stubby yellow Gee Bee super-sportster around the ten laps of the ten mile course at 236.239 miles an hour to flash past the home pylon winner over J. R. Wedell, flying a plane of his own build, powered with the same type motor Bayles used, was clocked at 227.992 miles an hour.

Jackson is Third.

Third place in the race went to Dale (Red) Jackson, St. Louis endurance pilot, with an average of 211.183 miles an hour. Jackson was flying the same Laird special plane which a year ago in Chicago won first place in the Thompson trophy with "Speed" Holman, now dead, at the stick.

Major James H. (Jimmie) Doolittle, who Friday set a new transcontinental speed record of 11 hours and 15 minutes from Burbank, Cal., to Newark, N. J., was forced down with engine trouble during the seventh lapse of the race. He was in second place, and picking up speed when his motor started heating up and he was forced to land.

Bayles won $7,500 as well as the huge silver Thompson trophy for a year. Wedell got $4,500 as second money, and Jackson, third, was paid $3,000.

Eaker is Fifth.

All three of the leaders did well above last year's top speed of 201 miles an hour. Robert L. Hall of Springfield, Mass., who designed the plane with which Bayles won the race, was fourth in the trophy grind, with a speed equal to last year's record.

The army speed ace, Captain C. Eaker, placed fifth, with a speed of 180.074 miles an hour in his Lockheed Altair. Eaker was unable to get his retractable landing gear down after the race, and finally landed on the fuselage of the machine, getting a severe jolting, but no injuries.

In sixth place was Ben O. Howard, Chicago transport pilot, flying his special low powered monoplane at 163.573 miles an hour. Howard was credited by Bayles with saving the winner's life when he steered the Springfield flier away from a pylon on the race course.

William Long of Kansas City got seventh place in the race, turning in a 153.049 miles an hour speed.

Jackson narrowly missed cracking up when his ship brushed tree tops and part of the fabric was ripped and the landing gear bent. He finished as the fabric rip was opening wider, approaching a point where further flying would have been impossible.

Motorcade Takes Singers To Salem

Eighty In Auto Party At Saengerbund Concert; Delegates Return

Eighty German singers of New Castle, representing the Eintracht Singing Society and the Frohsin Ladies' choir journeyed to Salem, O., in a motorcade Sunday afternoon to attend an evening concert which marked the biennial convention program of the Transylvania American Saengerbund. The convention ended last night.

Three local men, John Lienert, Adolph Lang and Fred Weinschenk represented District 6 of the male chorus at the sessions. Mrs. Adolph Lang, Mrs. Fred Weinschenk and Mrs. Andy Hartman were delegates of District 14 of the ladies, choral group.

In the election before adjournment, John Lienert was reelected as a trustee of the saengerbund for two years.

The singers will assemble at Erie next Labor Day for their biennial saengerfest and the following year meet in their biennial convention at Canton. The conventions and singing festivals are alternated.

King Carol of Roumania Reported Courting Maria Francesca, 17, Daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, in Strange Way.

MME. MAGDA LUPESCU — KING CAROL — EX-QUEEN HELENE

Girls, and presumably they are legion, who have sighed for the romantic aura which is popularly supposed to encircle the heads of princesses of the blood royal and insure their happiness amidst regal surroundings might find such an imaginary halo a crown of thorns if they were placed in the drama in which Princess Maria Francesca, 17, daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, probably is playing an unwelcome role. Reports from authoritative sources of Paris indicate that King Carol, he of the scandalous affair of the heart with Mme. Lupescu and marital difficulties with his former wife, Helene of Greece, is courting Princess Maria by proxy. Apparently the girl is being led to the slaughter as an innocent pawn of Old World politics, the adventurous King of the Rumanians not deigning openly to go through the required motions of making love where true romance is lacking.

Apollo Glee Club Members Reunion

Former Club Members Meet At Cascade Park On Saturday

Old times, old friends and old songs were mingled with food and fellowship Saturday afternoon, Sept. 5, when the Apollo Club held a reunion picnic in Cascade Park. About 25 of the former glee singers were present with their families at the picnic dinner in the grove.

Following the dinner President W. W. McGaughey, now of Akron, O., called upon several of the members for a few remarks, but the big event of the reunion was the glee singing directed by Richard E. Johns, who is the only director the club ever had.

The reunion idea will be a permanent one and each year the members and their families will get together. The Apollo Club was organized in 1912 and for many years presented concerts in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

Many of the members are now residents of other cities, but they were back Saturday, glad of the opportunity of once more singing as an organization.

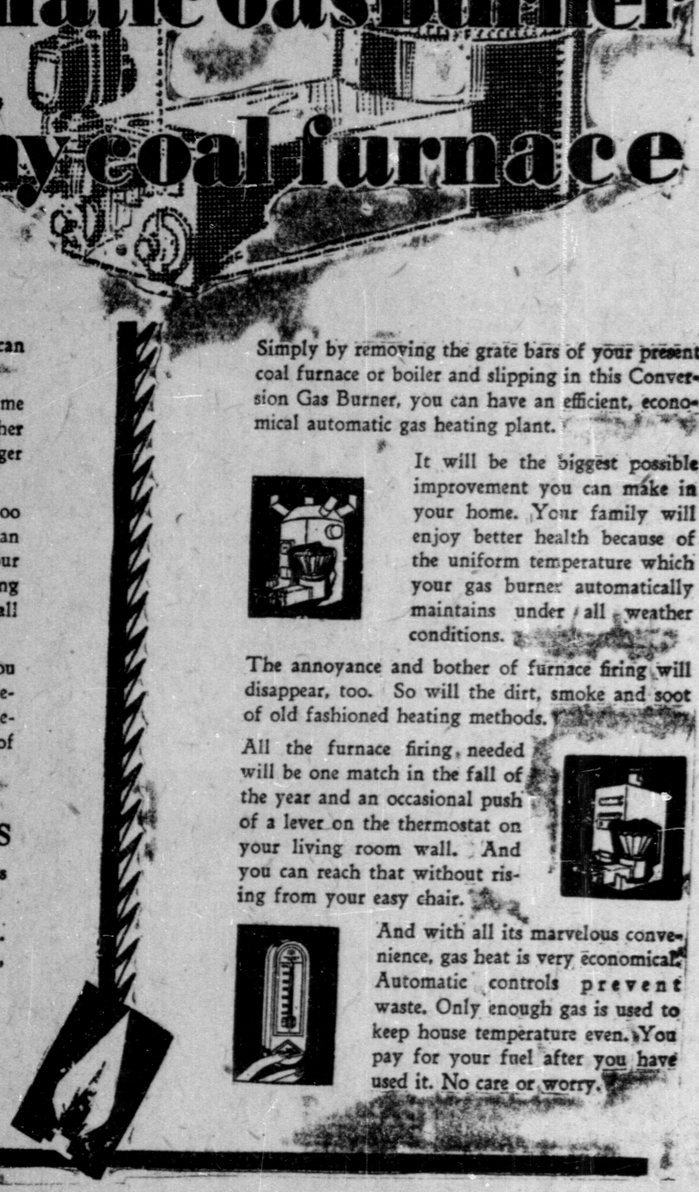
2 years to pay for an Automatic Gas Burner ....fits any coal furnace



DRUDGERY has no place in the American home.

Old fashioned heating ways take too much time . . . cause too much labor . . . too much bother and worry . . . make too much dirt . . . endanger too much the health of your family.

In fact, hand firing is too antiquated and too much a general nuisance for the modern American home especially when it is easy to change your present coal furnace into an automatic gas heating plant and enjoy even temperature comfort all Winter long.

A Gas Heating Plant orders its own fuel. You no longer need worry about fuel ordering and delivering. An underground distribution system delivers your fuel (Automatically) regardless of weather!

SPECIAL LIBERAL TERMS

As Low as $5 Down. No further payments till October.

24 months for the balance, or 5% off for cash. You pay only $1 monthly in December, January and February.

Ask for free estimate and liberal allowances. No obligation.

Simply by removing the grate bars of your present coal furnace or boiler and slipping in this Conversion Gas Burner, you can have an efficient, economical automatic gas heating plant.

It will be the biggest possible improvement you can make in your home. Your family will enjoy better health because of the uniform temperature which your gas burner automatically maintains under all weather conditions.

The annoyance and bother of furnace firing will disappear, too. So will the dirt, smoke and soot of old fashioned heating methods.

All the furnace firing needed will be one match in the fall of the year and an occasional push of a lever on the thermostat on your living room wall. And you can reach that without rising from your easy chair.

And with all its marvelous convenience, gas heat is very economical. Automatic controls prevent waste. Only enough gas is used to keep house temperature even. You pay for your fuel after you have used it. No care or worry.

Children In Bare Feet Ask Shoes To Attend School

Stockings And Other Clothing Desired By Applicants At County Headquarters

Rooms of the county poor board were besieged this morning by a large number of people desiring aid. Many parents were accompanied by children for whom shoes and clothing were asked in order that they might attend school.

For the most part the children were in their bare feet. In other cases they wore shoes with thin soles or holes in the uppers. One woman came with five children, all in their bare feet. Many of the others had from two to four.

According to the stories told by the parents they have been out of work. The school law says that the children must attend school, and they are unable to send them to school unless they are equipped with shoes, stockings and other clothing.

Conuty Commissioner Calvin C Boyd and Poor Director Hogue have a big proposition before them in providing for the wants of the needy but the children situation is particularly acute at this time. They are doing their best to take care of the situation.

Few Permits To Carry Gun Given

Sheriff Frank N. Johnston is carrying out his policy of refusing permits to persons who wish to carry a gun, unless they have very good reasons. So far 75 requests have been made for permits and only five granted. Some of the reasons given by persons who desire permits to carry guns, are too trivial to deserve consideration. Only in cases where good reasons can be shown will the sheriff issue a permit.

3,000 See Universal Sanitary Trounce Shenango In Second Tilt Monday, 6-2

Playing championship like baseball, the Universal Sanitary baseball team took a big lead in the Lawrence County League series by winning two games from the Shenango Pottery aggregation. In the opening contest of the series Saturday Wylie Shiek pitched his way to a 4-0 victory at Centennial field. With three thousand or more fans looking on the Universals won the second game of the series 6-2 Monday afternoon at Centennial field.

In the series opener Wylie Shiek hurled sensational ball for the Universals. Throughout the contest he had his opponents in check and was never threatened. W. Soho was on the mound for the Shenango team. In the third the Universals got to him for two hits, a base on balls coupled with a wild patch which hit Shiek scoring three runs. In the fifth W. Soho gave way to Smolnik who finished the game. The Universals were held hitless as well as scoreless during the remaining three innings.

Shiek was touched for seven hits which he kept well scattered. Six hits were garnered by the winning nine. Huston with two hits including a double and Redman who poled out a double which accounted for two Universal runs in the third featured for the Universals while Russo with three hits and Paul McCullough with two bingles were the outstanding stars for the losers.

Universals Win Second

The Universals came back again Labor Day by copping the second game of the series, 6-2 before the presence of some 3,000 or more fans. Paul McCullough was on the mound for the Shenango Pottery team. The Universals used "Pecks" Huston. In the opening frame the Universals scored five runs.

McCullough got himself in a terrible hole in the first inning when he walked four men. Three runs crossed the plate when Russo missed Rodgers easy pop fly. The bases were loaded. The Shenango team crossed the plate twice in the first inning on three hits. From then on Huston held the Shenango aggregation in check. Paul McCullough limited the Universals to three hits.

The Shenango team poled out seven bingles which accounted for two runs. Huston hurled masterful ball throughout. Sumners with two hits including a double and Huston who also smacked out a double featured for the Universals while Sank McCullough and Paul McCullough were the heavy tickers for the losing aggregation getting two hits apiece.

The Universal Sanitary team will have to capture one more victory to be crowned the 1931 champs of New Castle. Should the Universals win next Saturday's game at Centennial field the series will be over. The game starts at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The world series between the champion Philadelphia Athletics and the National league winners, either St. Louis or New York, will begin October 1, executives of the National and American leagues decided Monday after a meeting with Baseball Commissioner Landis. Whether the opening scene will be St. Louis or New York remained to be determined but Philadelphia was designated as the city in which the contending clubs will meet after the first two games on National league grounds. Box seats will sell for $6.60, reserved seats for $5.50, general admission tickets for $3 and bleacher seats for $1.

Following brisk fundamental drills, with plenty of passing practice the Pitt squad is prepared for scrimmage and tomorrow Coach Sutherland will send the Pitt squads against each other. The varsity will stack up with Eddie Hirshberg and Rip Collins, ends; Jim MacMurdo and Jess Quatse at the tackles; Hart Morris and Mike Milligan, guards; Daugherty, center; Cutri, quarterback; Heller and Reider, halfbacks and Clark fullback. The second team will be composed of Dailey and Okladany, ends; Cuba and Calenti, tackles; Hartwig and Seigel, guards; Termey, center; Alpert, quarterback; Simms and Sebastian, halfbacks and Luch, fullback.

Belmont Park opened its 12 day fall meeting with more than 20,000 race enthusiasts present to see the trumph of Joseph E. Widener's Mr. Sponge in the fall high weight handicap, first of the rich features to be decided at the course. Perfectly ridden by Mack Garner, Mr. Sponge carried 126 pounds and finished the six furlongs with four lengths to spare over Helianthus. Mrs. Charles Amory's Balko, with 138 pounds up was third. At Chicago, Hygro, sensational speed marvel from the west, galloped off with the $5,000 added Joliet handicap for the two years olds and the impression prevails he is the fast juvenile the west has developed this year. The fast son of the famous French stallion, Epinard, out of the sprinting mare, Ruddy Light, smothered his seven rivals with blistering speed and won by a length. Twenty five thousand witnessed the race.

Arrangements for the Veterans of Foreign wars boxing show which is to be staged here September 2, will get under way today. Already the local boys are clamoring for a place on the card as it is probable the biggest crowd of the season will be in the bowl. According to the Committeemen, La Rue and Williams, there will be delegations here from Mercer, Beaver and Butler counties of Pennsylvania and Mahoning county, Ohio. Homer Gray has signified his intention of going through with his postponed bout with Bill Donnelli and if Tommy Arnold wants a crack at some junior welterweight he will be taken care of by either Johnny Jennings or Billy Joyce.

Chet Smallwood came through a few nights ago to smack Ray Collins of Erie for a decision in Cleveland. Smallwood is the southpaw who romped several times in this city and is now managed by Jimmy Dunn. Another surprise was the victory of Jimmy Vaughn over Mickey Cohen. A match which will be of local interest will be staged at Johnstown, September 24, between Ross Fields and Willie Davies. They fought one draw. Before taking on Fields at Johnstown, Davies will box George Annarino at Huntington, W. Va., Annarino is a good puncher but Willie's speed and ringcraft will probably prove too much for Annarino.

Title Is At Stake Tonight

When the Marcellas and Pierce and Bartsch mushball teams battle tonight at 5:30 o'clock on the Lehigh field the championship of the second half of the Class B league will be at stake.

Brocks and Price will officiate the contest. One of the best games of the season is anticipated. Both teams are set for this game.

Tennis Star Fails Comeback Attempt

Dick Williams Looks Good In Beating Jack Wright, But Age Tells Plainly

Keith Gledhill, Youngster Defeats Williams In Second Round Of Forest Hills Play

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Golf has its Francis Ouimet and baseball has its Jack Quinns and Clarence Mitchells, but amateur tennis has no oldster capable of creating Father Time.

For just one round of the national tennis singles championship at Forest Hills, it seemed that a miracle of the courts was in the making. Even as Ouimet was striding triumphantly down the fairways Saturday at Beverely in his successful quest for a title he had not won since 1914, another veteran of 1914 vintage was staging a remarkable comeback.

The second oldster was R. Norris Williams, 2nd, the only formidable ancient in a field dominated by young blood seeking Johnny Doeg's national tennis title. Dick Williams, an in-and-outer, was showing flashes of the form that had twice gained him the diadem.

Williams Stars.

Ellsworth Vines, George Lott, Fred Perry, Frank Shields, Sydney Wood and Doeg himself, all youngsters, watched with undisguised interest as the 40-year-old Williams beat Jack Wright, Canada's No. 1 Davis cup star.

It would have made a very pretty story if Williams, on the heels of Ouimet's rejuvenation, had gone on to further triumphs. But after all, the veteran internationalist is an old man in a tennis way, and in Keith Gledhill he was meeting one of the best of the younger stars. The cocky young king of the college tennis world disposed of the old master in such easy fashion that it was tragic.

Williams won only three games out of the first two sets, losing by a score of 6-1, 6-2, 7-5. He was in one of his frequent slumps and his magic of Saturday deserted him entirely before the triumphant rush of youth.

And so old Dick, instead of performing another miracle, was merely "king for a day". His elimination gives the field the most youthful aspect it has had for many a long year, now that large William Tilden is no longer a simon-pure.

CANTLON WINS ALTOONA RACE

Shorty Cantlon, Detroit, Wins First Place In Classic 100-Mile Race

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 8.—A spurt in the last ten miles, together with a blowout on the machine of a rival, had combined today to send Shorty Cantlon, of Detroit, to the finish line in the 100-mile race here a victor. He carried off first place to win $1,500 and 120 A. A. championship points.

Cantlon pushed his iron steed around the oval speedway in 54 and 43 seconds, giving him an average of 109 miles an hour. It was a blown tire on the speedster of Bill Cummings, of Indianapolis, who had held a half-mile lead for 65 miles, that swayed the race in Cantlon's favor. Ten miles from the finish, Cummings' tire blew out on the back stretch and he limped into the pit. A swift change enabled to hold second place, however, as Cantlon swept home a winner. Chet Miller of Philadelphia was third.

Titan Gridders Observe Labor Day With Two Sessions

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 8.—Labor Day was just another day of labor for the 50 candidates for the Westminster College football team. Coach John Lawther and Assistant Coach "Miz" Dart put the men through drills in the morning and in the afternoon.

Following scrimmage sessions on Friday and Saturday of last week, a number of the men were bruised a bit, but went through the drills with enthusiasm. The lay-off over Sunday brought a number of men on the crippled list back to the squad.

In the Saturday afternoon scrimmage Cromwell Ketterer, Rochester, watch-charm halfback, stood out on both offense and defense. Ketterer scored a touchdown for the "White" team against the "Grays", and reeled off three or four long runs.

Walter Kozicki, Yaegertown, tackle on last year's team, arrived in camp Saturday. Kozicki had a sore ear which kept him from reporting at the first of camp, but is in fair shape and will be competing with the other linemen during the week.

Steve Hoelzle, former Titan tackle, helped his old teammate, "Miz" Dart, in directing the scrimmage session between the "Whites" and "Grays" Saturday. Hoelzle, Dart, Havrilla and Lawther are all former Westminster stars.

Clipping, blocking and tackling practice for backs and end is on the schedule for this week. Coach Lawther will also spend a lot of time polishing up the offense which has been ragged in scrimmage sessions.

The first game of the season, with Slippery Rock, is scheduled for September 26, just three weeks from last Saturday. This will give Lawther very little time in which to develop a team out of so much green material. For the most part, freshmen will make up the varsity, for there are only six lettermen on the squad.

Gar Wood Retains Motor Boat Trophy

Double Disqualification In British International Trophy Cup Race

Gar Wood, American Racer Outsmarts Kaye Don At Start Of Race

By HAROLD KAHL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, Sept. 8.—Strategy born of the refusal of the British challenger, Kaye Don, to permit a 45-minute delay in the International Motor boat races on the historic Detroit river here, today had given Gar Wood the coveted Harmsworth trophy. The second and last heat of the classic occurred yesterday when the 200,000 people who lined both banks of the river were provided with never-to-be forgotten thrills.

Wood's Miss America IX (CQ) is still Harmsworth champion and Miss England II is being fished out of the river. Two false starts, which resulted in the disqualification of both Miss America IX and Miss England II, gave the second heat victory to Wood's second entry, Miss America VIII.

As a result of the double disqualification, the race became "no match" under the rules of the British International Trophy deed of the plaque and Miss America IX retained the prize by virtue of winning it last year. Miss England II overturned and sank on the first lap after cutting a buoy too closely and was caught in the wash waves of Miss America IX.

Outsmarts Kaye Don

Wood said:

"Sure I'm happy. I asked for a postponement of 45 minutes because of a leaky gas tank in Miss America IX. There was a crack six inches long in the tank. My request was denied and it made me angry.

"When Eddie Edenburn, chairman of the race committee, told me Don would not agree to a 45-minutes delay I told him that I could have the tank repaired in time. I was coming down the river and made a false start purposely. I told him when I did, Don would likely follow me.

"Don had intimated that I stood a good chance to beat him if I got across the line first. I knew he would be anxious to get the break on the start.

"If he did I knew it meant disqualification of both Miss America IX and Miss England II, but there was still Miss America VIII to finish the race. If Don wanted to play that way with me all right. I figured I could outsmart him and you know what happened. He followed me across the starting line ahead of time and we kept the trophy."

Ryantown Captures Pair Of Contests

The Ryantown team took a double bill from the West Side Civics in a Labor Day twin affair. The morning game at Ryantown field was won by a score of 15 to 7, and the afternoon tilt at Scotland Lane field was a 9 to 1 victory.

Todd hurled the morning game for Ryantown and held the Civics to four hits and had four of the healthy blows accredited his team from the pitching of Lanigan for the Civics. Maher also had four hits.

In the afternoon game, the pitching of Davies was brilliant, this youngster allowing but two hits and fanning four men. Schaas hurled for the Civics and was found for nine hits. Ziegler, Samuels and Lenhardt did the best batting for the Ryantown team, with Carr and Campbell the only batters to score Davies.

The score by innings of the first game:

Al Wittmer, Head Coach At Princeton Will Be Operated On For Appendicitis

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Al Wittmer, Princeton university head football coach, will be operated on for appendicitis at Princeton this afternoon, his brother Edward told newspapermen when the train carrying the Tiger coach reached here today.

The gridiron coach previous has steadfastly refused to undergo the operation because it would prevent his being on hand at the start of practice for his first year in charge of the Tiger squad.

He was accompanied by his wife a nurse and Dr. Ralph Jones Belford of Princeton, who hurried to him when Wittmer was stricken at Hanover, N. H., while on his vacation. His brother said he was resting comfortably, but allowed no one to see him.

Westminster Grid Camp Notes

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. Sept. 8—Many former Westminster athletes visited camp Saturday to watch the scrimmage sessions of the varsity football candidates. Some of them, now coaching in high schools of the state, were: Jeff Byler, Donold Cleland, Kenneth Delahunty.

Most of the members of the athletic council were present Saturday afternoon to see the scrimmage sessions. In addition, many alumni were on hand to watch the men go through the strenuous one hour drill.. Fifty two automobiles were parked near the gridiron when practice started at 3 o'clock.

Chester L. Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Press, and Ray Gallivan, photographer, spent three hours in the Titan camp Saturday.

Ted Donaldson, Sharon hefty tackle candidate on the injured list since Friday, went to Sharon Saturday evening to consult a doctor about his ankle.

Dick Young, freshmen tackle candidate, is being groomed for a fullback post. He did fair work in the backfield Saturday.

"Miz" Dart after pronouncing the name of a player incorrectly, said, "Pardon me, I placed the accent on the wrong syllable. It should have been on the antepenult" which brought a laugh from the squad.

Bill Staples, Butler lad who is playing fair ball in the backfield, was a halfback on the MacKenzie Prep team in New York last year. He claims that when MacKenzie played the Army Plebes, Fred Palmer former Titan halfback, was a hard man to stop. Palmer is being groomed for a varsity halfback post this year at West Point.

There are no serious injuries among the players so far, thanks to the careful treatment by Jack Hulme, team trainer. Jack was assisted all last week by Luther Braham, Butler, a second-year student in law at the University of Pittsburgh and former student manager of basketball at Westminster.

The squad will probably be cut to 40 some time this week, and at the first of next week will be cut to 30. Lawther hopes to keep a squad of 30 men for the season.

Watch Backswing On Iron Shots!

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer
NUMBER 68

Regardless of how far you would like to force an iron shot, learn to restrict the height of the hands on the backswing.

This method keeps the ball and club under control.

The distance to the ball is not in the long, sweeping backswing, but in the punch you have put into the shot with the wrists, starting about a foot back of the ball.

A long swing does not mean a longer ball.

Learn to take the hands back to an abbreviated height on all iron shots until you feel you have the punch with the wrist.

Sacrifice distance until you have the ball under control.

The distance in your game will come by itself naturally if you do not concentrate on it.

The professional golfer would never think of hitting the ball harder than he could hit it with his wrists.

The width of the feet, in stance, plays an important part in controlling the backswing.

To have them far apart means extra effort in getting the club back. To play them close together, such as Jones does, one can pivot freely on the backswing, cut the swing and use more body.

Players with their feet far apart find themselves slicing because they cannot reach the ball. The body is tied up and they cut the shot in an effort to get through.

TIMES like this no one means to be wasteful yet the most flagrant form of wastefulness is to withdraw from use things that can still render service and economy to some one. When you do so you forego the cash you can obtain from them by resale and you deny others of the practice of thrift that arises from making use of things they can buy and utilize without paying the "first hand" price.

Why not sell to eager buyers what you don't or cannot use? There are hundreds of them reading the Want Ads every day for just such chances.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Lower Prices Appear On Today's Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—All sections of the stock market settled down to lower price levels on the re-opening after the triple Labor day holiday today. Though losses in active shares rarely exceeded a point or two, many of the well known issues were carried below the last previous low levels of the year, and in some cases to the lowest in five or six years.

General conditions in worldwide trade and finance were unchanged over the holiday, emphasis in Labor day addresses was given to the severity of unemployment problems all over the world, and the unrest prevailing at world industrial centers. Once again the professionals were on the selling side of the market, pouring in a flood of selling orders for the market leaders.

This selling increased as the second hour advanced, and the gaps in prices as compared with last Friday's closing widened considerably. United States Steel broke to 80 for a new loss of 2 points. J. I. Case was again under pressure and fell back about 3 points to 45¾. American Tel and Tel was down about 3 points at 163⅝, Westinghouse down 2½ at 55.

The Rails and Utilities came in for their share of sharp selling. Consolidated Gas, at the head of the Utilities, lost 2 points at 88⅛, while Public Service of New Jersey was down 2⅛ at 75; American and Foreign Power down 2 and Standard Gas down 2½ points.

Lehigh Valley, in which the dividend was recently passed, was a weak spot in the Rails, falling off 4 points to a new low at 26¼. Baltimore and Ohio was down 2 points at 39¾; New Haven down 2 at 48 and New York Central down 1¾.

After a brief lull in the second hour the market was flooded with selling orders as "stops" placed under margin trading stock holdings were uncovered. General Motors, General Electric, Westinghouse, United Corporation and other favorites settled down to the low level of the movement, in some cases duplicating the June low prices. Selling pressure increased as the sped ticker fell two minutes behind the market, even with the use of abbreviated quotations on the tape.

The fact that a number of important dividends were hanging in the balance was again made use of by the bears. New Haven Railroad and Western Union directors meet today; New York Central tomorrow; others later in the week. The Steel corporation reports its forward tonnage on Thursday, and meanwhile Steel mills activities at Youngstown have declined.

The market displayed little rallying power around the noon period, but the commodity markets were firm, with Cotton up a few points and Wheat fractionally higher.

Giants Fail To Gain Headway In National League

Fast Stepping Giants Take Both Ends Of Double Bill From Phillies, But St. Louis Wins

YANKEES TRIP ATHLETICS TWICE

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Labor Day, 1930, today was written into the records of aspiring New York Giants as just so much wasted effort.

They labored long and well, but when they packed up their tools and lunch boxes and trudged homeward at eventide the New Yorkers discovered while they were twice defeating the Phillies, their enemy, the St. Louis Cardinals, were doing the same thing to Chicago.

So the Cards still remained seven games in front of the chesty men of Manhattan. The Redbirds, as the fellow say, can still lose the pennant—just like J. P. Morgan might go broke.

In the first New York tilt, Hubbell would not budge an inch after allowing three hits and a homer with two on by Ott and some other fancy sticking netted it, 6 to 0. Parmalee gave only four hits and would have scored a shutout except for an error by Eddie Marshall, Giant second baseman. As it was he had to be content with a 2 to 1 triumph.

Derringer was far too good for the Cubs and St. Louis romped 1 to 0 in the early encounter. Grimes was touched for 11 safeties in the second game but they were spaced, giving the Cards the advantage 8 to 3. It was the ninth straight loss for the Bruins, droping them to fourth place.

Yanks Win Two

Because the Athletics played almost entirely without their stars, the New York Yankees snatched two games, 15 to 3 and 9 to 4. Andrews and Rhodes were the winning hurlers. Babe Ruth hit two homers and Lou Gehrig one. Lou is still two ahead of Ruth with a total of 42.

After Watson Clark has given the Brooklyn Robins a 5 to 4 win in ten innings over Boston, Van Mungo, a young right hander from Hartford, went out there and hurled a superb shutout for the Dodgers, 2 to 0. Mungo allowed only three hits, fanned seven and made two safeties himself. His victory jumped the Robins into third place.

The Pirates 6-1 and 4-2 slammings of the Cincy Reds proved costly, Thevenow, Pittsburgh shortstop, fracturing his ankle in sliding home. Good pitching and a home run by George Uhle gave Detroit a 3 to 2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns, but the Tigers were outhit in the evening slugfest, losing 11 to 7.

Hadley and Burke in the opener and Marberry in the night cap returned Washington 7 to 5 and 15 to 1 defeats over the Boston Red Sox. Russell, Boston hurler, was the victim of 12 runs in the first two innings of the afternoon entertainment.

George Connally gave his old teammates only four hits and Cleveland downed Chicago's Sox 6 to 2. In the second battle Bowler, Denver semi-professional hurler, lost 5 to 2. He might have won except for giving four walks and four errors behind him.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor.

That three-club, six-game all-New York (gosh, the hyphens are thick today—a regular hyphen-storm. What, another) series proposed to ease the metropolitan unemployment suffering is a dumb idea—like Einstein's theory. That is, it's all brain!

Smart isn't a word for it. A triple battle for New Yorks' own baseball championship is a natural attraction with splendid financial possibilities for the magnates, the players and, in the current case, for the metropolitan destitute.

Brooklyn fans have never gazed upon Babe Ruth and company in action in Ebbets field, save in meaningless pre-season games. And the same goes for the customers at Yankee stadium.

* * *

The rivalry 'twixt Robin and Giant increases with each season. The two proposed post-season city championship scraps between these clubs are bound to be great crowd pullers.

To add to this feast of great baseball entertainment for Gotham fans would be the revival of the old Giant and Yankee wars which came to a conclusion at the end of the 1923 world series.

The Giants took two out of three world series with the Yankees, and American league followers in New York haven't forgotten that. It's so much red ink in their memory book. The proposed series would give the Yans and their followers a chance to even matters as it would give the Giants a chance to wipe out the stigma of having lost the final battle with the Yankees in 1923.

* * *

Plans for the proposed city series should go through immediately. There ought not to be a single hitch. It means lots of extra pocket money for club owners and players as well as the chance to help out in depression's dark days.

A successful six-game series this year would be almost sure to be followed by subsequent three-team all-New York series in future seasons in which no New York club is engaged in the world series.

The two Chicago clubs have carried on their city series for many years with much profit for all concerned. It's a wonder the three New York clubs haven't tried the stunt before.

The other additional post-season series suggest themselves. Cleveland and Cincinnati, both being in Ohio, would be natural post-season rivals just as are the two Boston clubs.

Why not arrange charity series between these clubs?

School Reunion At Potter Run Draws Big Crowd

HEN'S EGG HATCHES CHICK IN HOT SUN

EDWARDSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 8—The hot weather has been responsible for many strange tales this summer, not the least of which is told by Jimmie Aubrey here.

To begin with, a hen laid an egg in a crevice of a log on the woodpile of the Aubrey home.

The hot sun beat down on the egg which had slipped deeper into the crevice. Aubrey watched the egg and one day was rewarded by signs of life within the egg.

The hole in the log was too small to permit the young chicken to move so Aubrey cut the log and placed the newcomer in the cool cellar.

Correct this sentence: "If the others will cut their acreage" said the farmer, "I won't increase mine to make a killing."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

With Labor Day over, the cucumbers picked and the streets full of Eugenic hats, summer seems to be on the way out. Next thing the straws and the derbies will trade places, the football referee's whistle will blow, the coal man will be calling up to ask how about his bill, if any, and the fall will be under way.

It was a great day for it though. Warm enough to go swimming if you insisted and cold enough to try out your new fall suit if you had one. It was the last fling of freedom for school kids, and school teachers, and today they are both getting ready to resume the battle of the class room tomorrow morning.

Learned of a new sport yesterday, not new to you perhaps, but a fellow can't know everything. It is known as "Skeet" and has no relation to any germaicide. Actually it is just trap shooting with the clap pigeons coming up at you from a dozen angles and the trap shooters who have ot claim it puts a new zip into an old sport.

Already we have a New Castle Skeet Club and next Saturday skeet shooters from Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania will be here to do battle. The skeet grounds if that's wnat they are called are out on the Coaltown road.

DO YOU KNOW—

The lawyer who walks in and out of hotel lobbies with his hands clasped back of him?

The merchant who walks to and from the East Side without his hat or coat?

The butter and egg man who is skeptical of everybody's golf score and is still trying to break 120?

The banker who usually jay walks across Washington street?

If you see a lad and a lass walking up Washington street most any day with a blissful look on their faces, caring little how they appear and apparently not sure of where they are going, don't wail until they ask you a question. Just step up and direct them to the court house, the second door on the right hand side of the hall.

That five day notification rule now in force in Ohio has given more young folks a chance to see Pennsylvania, for they won't wait five days and Pennsylvania doesn't demand it.

One week today and the battle of ballots will be on. Promises to be a big election with so many candidates running and so many people talking election.

Up around the Senior high school this morning reminded you of a convention session. The school teachers were back. Some of them had been abroad, some of them had stayed at home, and some of them loaded up on education in summer schools.

Some of them were just starting their career as school teachers and my dear they were simply thrilled to death. Three months from now they wont be quite as thrilled but they'll know more about what it's all about.

ENDS HIS LIFE ON GRAVE OF PARENTS

CANONSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8—After writing out instructions to undertakers for the funeral services Albert Hincy, of 211½ East College street, committed suicide over the graves of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hincy, in Oak Spring cemetery. He was active in Masonic affairs and for many years had been a member of the Canonsburg board of health. For the past 20 years he had been employed by the Standard Tin Plate Company. Deputy Coroner James Jones said Hincy had been despondent because of ill-health.

Croton Church Requests Return Of Present Pastor

Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent of the New Castle district of the Erie Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the fourth quarterly meeting of the Croton Avenue Methodist church Friday evening of last week and splendid reports were given of the work of the church during the year, with every obligation paid to date.

The splendid work carried on by this church during the past year has been under the guidance of their most capable pastor, Rev. C. S. Joshua, and the congregation unanimously has requested conference to return him to them for another year.

City Returns To Standard Time

Little Inconvenience Experienced As Time Changes Sunday Morning

New Castle residents who did not forget, awoke Sunday morning an hour later than they had been accustomed to, the city resuming Eastern Standard time after four months of Daylight Saving observance.

By city-wide agreement, the old time ended Saturday at midnight and today, everyone has become accustomed to the new time arrangement.

The only difference that can be noted is that it gets dark a little earlier in the evening, while early risers find it daylight when they awaken in the morning. There was little confusion as the time changed.

Police Chief Is Shot To Death

Charles Kavanaugh, Chief Of Police Of Bernardsville, N. J., Shot To Death

(International News Service)

BERNARDSVILLE, N. J., Sept. 8.—Police Chief Charles Kavanaugh, of Bernardsville, was shot and killed today by an assailant who lay in ambush for him in a flower garden adjoining his home. Police believe that the murder was in reprisal for his vigorous activities against local bootleggers and speakeasy proprietors.

Chief Kavanaugh was just entering his home when the attacker began to fire. Two shots missed him, but when Kavanaugh stepped off his front porch a third shot struck him in the right side of the chest. He died almost instantly.

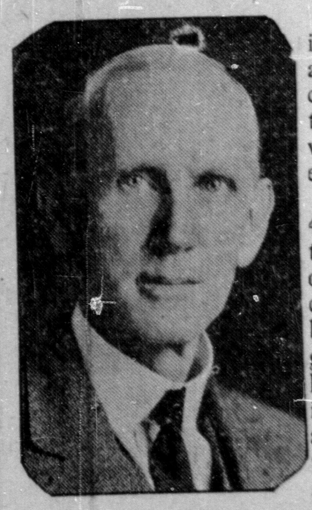
County Coroner

There is no salary attached to the coroner's office, it being on the fee system. Investigations cost the county $5.50 and inquests around $25.



Last year, 1930, I investigated 119 cases and held only 16 inquests. Six months of this year 54 cases investigated and only eight inquests held.

Last year there were 40 cases, in addition to the 16 mentioned on which inquests could have been held but were not, as no good purpose would have been served. Saving to the county, around $1,000. Other years show the same average saving.

I am asking your support for re-election on a platform of efficiency and economy.
